Khrushchev in Critical Conferences After Two Major Setbacks at U. N.

YOUTH CHECKS HIS ROCKET—Marshall Kriesel, 20, gives final once-over to the rocket he built in the past five years in basement of his Owatonna, Minn., home. ## Nikita Says He And Tito Close On Arms, Congo

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today he and Yugoslav President Tito have agreed or are "very close" on the problems of disarmament, the Congo and steps to safeguard peace.

The Soviet leader, a big grin on his face, announced this after he had met privately for an hour and 45 minutes with Tito, who has bucked Moscow domination.

Khrushchev said he and Tito did not discuss Communist ideological differences. He said they avoided this because Khrushchev is in New York in his role as premier while Tito is a president.

Saturday Starts New Law Against Drinking Drivers

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Beginning Saturday, police will be armed with a weapon against drivers on the highways who have been drinking but are not legally drunk.

Under terms of one of several highway statutes that go into effect Oct. 1, a motorist whose ability to drive is impaired by alcohol faces a 60-day suspension of his license if it is his first offense, a 120-day suspension if it is the second, and revocation if it is the third.

The law, first of its kind in the nation, is based on the premise that a person who has been drinking can be dangerous on the highways even though not fully intoxicated.

What Law Specifies

The law specifies that a driver's abilities will be presumed impaired if a chemical test taken within two hours after his arrest shows an alcoholic volume of ten-hundredths of one percent.

A volume of fifteen-hundredths of one per cent is evidence of intoxication.

Under another new law, the maximum punishment for a first offense of drunken driving will be increased to $500 and a year in jail. It now is $100 and 30 days. Persons convicted also face loss of their licenses.

Other New Laws

Other new laws:

Eliminate from all state highways a requirement that police must chase a speeder for one-quarter of a mile before making an arrest. The change will allow greater use of radar to apprehend speeders.

Require that a junior driver be accompanied at night by a parent, a guardian or a person who has been acting as a parent on a regular basis. Present law requires only that a 16 or 17-year-old operator driving at night be accompanied by a person with a regular license, who can be a person 18 and older.

Bar junior operators licensed after Oct. 1 from driving in Nassau County. Parents there requested the ban.

Specify that speed limits are speeds "reasonable and prudent" under existing highway conditions, regardless of what the posted signs say.

The various laws were enacted by the 1960 Legislature. Some of the recommendations are Gov. Rockefeller's, others those of the joint legislative committee on highway safety.

Rockefeller originally requested that the driving-while-impaired charge be applied to persons whose blood contained five-hundredths of one per cent of alcohol. This led to the popular designation of the legislation as the "two-drink bill."

The Legislature doubled the amount of alcohol involved, however, on the ground the Rockefeller proposal was too stringent.

The governor said in requesting

Reds Say 4-Power Status Off

West Now Taking Dim Berlin View

BONN, Germany (AP) —Western officials said today the Soviet Union is trying to pronounce the four-power occupation status of Berlin dead. The Western aides said they would not accept this attempt.

"We refuse to recognize the right of anyone unilaterally to abrogate the Berlin agreements," one official said.

Take Serious View

Diplomats from the United States, Britain and France declined to comment officially on a Soviet note published Tuesday night. But it was clear from private conversations they took a very serious view of it.

"We feel," a French official said, "that this is the first time the Soviet Union has said so clearly the four-power status of Berlin is dead.

"It looks at first sight as if something very important has happened," he added.

The Soviet note said Communist East Germany has "full authority and freedom (involving) the whole of the territory lying under its sovereignty, including its capital."

View Taken by Soviets

The Communists consider East Berlin the capital of East Germany. Thus the Soviets were taking an unequivocal position that they no longer occupy East Berlin under the occupation agreement and that the Western powers and West Germany must deal with the East Germans where East Berlin is concerned.

The Soviet note, addressed to

CALLS FOR MEETING BETWEEN IKE AND K—Speaking at the U.N. General Assembly, President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic asks for a personal meeting between President Eisenhower and Premier Krushchev to start the world toward complete disarmament.

Stand On Red China, Congo Lose

Assembly Resumes Debate on Policy

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, smarting under sharp defeats on two of his major objectives, figured prominently today in critical huddles of government chiefs in advance of U.N. General Assembly showdown votes.

The assembly's 21-member steering committee wrangled until the early morning hours in a meeting which resulted in setbacks for the Soviet premier on the admission of Red China and immediate debate on his charges of Western "aggression" in Africa's Congo. He also failed to build support for his efforts to undermine the office of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

Huddles With Tito

As the assembly policy debate resumed, Khrushchev was in conference with President Tito of Communist-ruled Yugoslavia at Soviet U.N. delegation headquarters. That was only one of a whirl of high-level conferences. Khrushchev meets Britain's prime minister, Harold Macmillan, Thursday afternoon.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter held a series of meetings with delegates of various nations in advance of a major Western reply to Khrushchev to be delivered in the assembly by Macmillan Thursday.

Big Test Looms

The big test of relative strength of the Soviet and Western sides in the fateful debate will come when the 96-member assembly discusses in full session the agenda items taken up in the long overnight wrangle by the steering committee. The world will watch closely to determine just how much strength either side has picked up or lost.

There is no chance, however, that the assembly will override the decisions of the steering committee, which recommended for the 10th year not to put the question of seating Red China on this year's agenda.

The Soviets lost out, too, in their pressure for immediate debate on Khrushchev's contention of "aggression in the Congo and the creation there of a breeding ground of tension. The committee stopped a Soviet drive to put this before the assembly at once.

Foundation of Assault

This was a foundation of Khrushchev's assault upon Hammarskjold and of his use of the term "stooges" in his charges that the secretary-general abused the office to the advantage of the West in the Congo crisis. The committee approved a British motion to adjourn debate on Congo, thus putting off action until later.

Assembly delegates will be watching closely for the votes and attitudes of new African members on such issues when they come up for full dress discussion eventually in the assembly.

Khrushchev's powerhouse drive to marshal neutralist support against Hammarskjold apparently has failed, a U.S. spokesman said.

Andrew Berding, assistant secretary of state, said at the end of President Eisenhower's stay in New York: "We feel that the great majority of the African nations, whether the older members or new member of the United Nations, are in strong support of Mr. Hammarskjold."

The Steering Committee voted 12-7, with one abstention, not to put the seating of Red China on the agenda this year. The United States made the resolution to shelve the question.

Supporting the U.S. proposal were Britain, France, Nationalist China, the United States, Panama, Italy, Costa Rica, Haiti, Pakistan, Canada, Venezuela and Japan. Voting against it were the Soviet Union, Bulgaria, Romania, Yugoslavia, Ceylon, Iraq and Sudan. Libya abstained.

Bitter words crackled between U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth and Communist representatives before the vote.

Hits Tibet Aggression

Wadsworth indicted Communist China for aggression in Tibet and pressure on Southeast Asia.

Soviet members — quoting Fidel Castro's attack on the United States in his speech Monday — retorted that the United States was not in a position to condemn "aggression by other nations."

Adopts Tough Tone Toward Foe

Free World Case Must Be Better Told: Nixon

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today the United States must present the case for the free world to underdeveloped nations "better than we've done in the past."

The Republican presidential nominee spoke in answer to questions from editors at a breakfast meeting of the Magazine Publishers Association before going to Long Island for a day of campaigning.

Slugs Away at Jack

Nixon said the Communist world is telling the people of Asia, Africa, South America and the Near East that they need a change and

At Charleston, W. Va., Tuesday night, for instance, he accused Kennedy of having made a "false statement" that 17 million Americans go to bed hungry every night. Nixon called it "grist for the Communist propaganda mill" and demanded Kennedy retract it.

Tops Kennedy's Turnout

Nixon charged that responsibility for not getting action on a bill for the relief of the distressed areas of West Virginia and other states "rests squarely on the Democratic presidential candidate."

That charge was made before a crowd in the Charleston armory that observers said exceeded a turnout for Kennedy eight days earlier.

Immediately afterwards, in an impromptu talk to others who overflowed into an adjoining building, Nixon repeated a previous claim that Kennedy's campaign promises would boost federal spending $13 to $18 billion a year.

"This $13 to $18 billion isn't Jack's money," Nixon said of his opponent, the son of a millionaire. "It's your money he is spending."

"I know what it means to meet a family budget at the end of the month," Nixon continued, "and what a tremendous effort it is for most folks to pay their taxes and meet their bills."

Backs Rights Plank

That is why, Nixon told them, he, Nixon, is not trying "to buy the people's votes with their own money."

Earlier, to a big and rain-soaked crowd on the Mississippi riverfront at Memphis, Tenn., also bigger than when Kennedy spoke there, Nixon voiced support of the GOP civil rights plank and said he talked the same about it in the South as in the North, East and West.

that the Western world wants to maintain the status quo.

"We have to recognize that holding the line against communism is not enough," he said.

Nixon's effort to garner New York's 45 electoral votes came as he adopted an increasingly tough tone toward his Democratic rival.

The vice president slugged away verbally at Sen. John F. Kennedy Tuesday in Tennessee and West Virginia.

50,000 Cubans May Attempt to Vote as Ricans

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Journal-American says two federal agencies are investigating the possibility that 50,000 Cubans posing as Puerto Ricans have entered the United States illegally.

The newspaper said the reported influx "may play an important role in the outcome of the presidential election in New York State."

It said the Immigration Service and the Federal Bureau of Investigation are conducting the probes.

Referring to the reported Cubans, the newspaper said:

"Most of them, it is claimed, are living in Harlem and may try to register and vote in November. . .

"Somewhere between 65 per cent and 75 per cent of the alleged aliens, if they register, are expected to vote Democratic."

It said State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz will set up a special division of the Election Fraud Bureau in his office immediately after vote registration is concluded to check on the status of Puerto Ricans who register.

Greene Approves $125,000 Fund for Donna Damage

The Greene County Board of Supervisors Tuesday evening authorized issuance of $125,000 in serial bonds to proceed with work to repair damages caused by Hurricane Donna.

The money is marked for construction and repairs in connection with bridges and highways damaged by the storm, improvement of streams and payment of engineering costs in connection with the waterways of the county.

A second resolution asks the legislature to reimburse the county for sums which may be spent in connection with storm damage.

It is reported that two large and four small Greene County bridges are included in the program.

It was pointed out that additional sums may be needed later, but that the issuance of $125,000 will cover preliminary work.

Critical of GOP, Not Nation, Jack Claims in Talks

Erie, Pa. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy, campaigning for the rich electoral vote prizes of Pennsylvania and New York, said today he downgrades the leadership of the Republican party and not—as Vice President Richard Nixon has contended—the United States of America.

"I have never been critical of our country," Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, declared in taking issue with Nixon, his Republican rival.

Accused by Nixon

Nixon has accused Kennedy of disparaging the nation in saying it needs to be strengthened.

Kennedy started another day-long gruelling tour inspired by huge crowds which have been greeting him with increased fervor since his television-radio debate Monday night with Nixon.

"We cannot have our prestige high abroad unless we are moving here at home," Kennedy said. "I want us to demonstrate that we can be first—not first but, or

Hudson Council Refers Police Hike to Board

A pay schedule proposed by Hudson city police will go back to the Board of Estimate and Apportionments for consideration, following a meeting of the Hudson City Council Tuesday night.

Power to fix salaries of city employes rests with the Board of Estimate and Apportionments, under the Home Rule Law, but some members of the council would like to shift that power to the council itself. Efforts to do so have been unavailing to date, however.

The city police have proposed a salary schedule which would provide a minimum of $4,700 for patrolmen, $5,200 for sergeants and $5,800 for the chief. In addition to these basic salaries there would be increments for each five years of service up to a maximum of $500.

Until Signal of Agreement

Nikita Willing to Be 'Locked Up' With Ike

By LEWIS GULICK

NEW YORK (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev says he's willing to be locked up in a room with President Eisenhower until white smoke—the signal of agreement—floats out of the chimney.

The atheistic Soviet premier quickly snapped up this College of Cardinals idea when it was suggested Tuesday night. He peddled it again during his round of socializing at diplomatic receptions.

Familiar With Procedure

"Although I am not a Catholic, I am familiar with the procedure, and I agree," the bouncy Khrushchev told his first host of the evening, Uruguayan U. N. delegate Eduardo Victor Haedo, who initially broached the scheme.

The Uruguayan referred to the Roman Catholic Church's method of picking its Pope. The cardinals are locked inside the Vatican for their deliberations. Not until white smoke pours from the chimney of their stove does the outside world know they have agreed on a new Pope.

After Khrushchev retold the story with gusto at a Czechoslovak reception, a newsman suggested the Kremlin chief under this method might find himself rooming with Eisenhower for quite a spell.

Meeting Appears Remote

"If they lock you in, what can you do?" Khrushchev replied.

And, Khrushchev added, he is prepared to waft the smoke signal from the Indian peace pipe a New Yorker gave him last week.

Prospects of an Eisenhower-Khrushchev get-together actually seemed more remote than ever. Khrushchev, blaming Eisenhower for the collapse of their 1959 Camp David harmony, made plain he would not move first for another meeting. Eisenhower left town determined not to see Khrushchev until the Soviet leader changes his tune.

Khrushchev did assure newsmen that if the United Nations isn't revamped to his liking, "We won't start a war — sleep in peace."

Soviet Undergoes Grueling Tests For Space Flight

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet medical specialists are giving exhaustive tests to a candidate for space flight, the Communist party paper Pravda reported today.

Not Far Off

"A manned flight to outer space is not far off," the paper quoted Vladimir Timakov, vice president of the Soviet Medical Academy as saying.

Timakov for the first time gave details of the training of the would-be astronaut. Only one was mentioned. The United States has been training seven for the last 18 months.

The prospective Soviet space traveler was described as a sparsely built man of less than medium stature. Apparently he is a jet pilot since Timakov said such pilots are most suitable.

The candidate's testing schedule covers approximately a month Timakov reported.

The deployment of a half-dozen Soviet ships with radar equipment in the Pacific and Atlantic recently spurred speculation that some spectacular space project might be timed during Soviet Premier Khrushchev's visit to New York.

Says U. S. Press Must Be Protected From Attacks

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP)—The growing number of attacks on the press should be combatted "intelligently constructively and unselfishly," the president of the New York State Society of Newspaper Editors says.

J. Leonard Gorman, editor of The Syracuse Post-Standard, cited, as an example, criticism leveled by many persons because newspapers report "all the news."

Other speakers at the closing session of the New York State Publishers Association joined Gorman Tuesday night in urging action designed to explain and protect American journalism.

Eugene Gardner of the American Newspaper Publishers Association described a program his organization designed to inform the youth of the country about newspaper work. The program includes use of newspapers in school curriculums. "Newspapers have the responsibility for inspiring youth; newspapers must help prepare young people for citizenship," he said.

David Starr, associate editor of the Long Island Press, explained efforts of the New York State Society of Newspaper Editors to obtain adoption by New York State of a 10-year-old California libel law. The California statute is based on the premise that American newspapers, television and radio stations are important news media deserving reasonable protection from accidental mistakes.

'All newspapers want to assume responsibility for their errors but should be given reasonable protection from harrassment by folk who consider them an easy means of collecting large awards of money," Starr said.

Gorman, explaining why he advocated newspaper action against critics, said:

"I am deeply concerned over what our children in the schools and our young people in the colleges are taught about the press. For many teachers and professors are creating not only the 'image' of today's newspapers but also the attitude of the next generation of readers and of citizens...and, believe me, this is important.

"For instance, too many college professors look down their noses at the American press as little more than a cheap entertainment medium, furnishing some incidental information of questionable accuracy and objectivity.

"Too many high-school, social-studies teachers believe what they were taught in college, often that the American press is a somewhat venal institution, guaranteed a degree of special privilege by the Constitution.

"Too many economists scorn advertising as an economic waste in itself, rather than as the life blood of American retailing industry and production.

"As publishers and as editors, you and we should be vitally concerned about this trend, for the inevitable result, if such theories are not challenged and disproved, would be an eventual move to declare the press a public utility, to

Scholarship Competition Has 4 KHS Semifinalists

Four Kingston High School students have been named semifinalists in the 1960-61 National Merit Scholarship competition, it was announced today by Principal M. Clifford Miller.

They are:

James A. Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar H. Lawrence, 19 Abruyn Street; Sheila Plunket, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Plunket, 316 Washington Avenue; Peggy Ann Starkman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Starkman, Boice's Lane, and William H. Broadley, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. James Broadley, formerly of 49 Northfield Street, now residing in Arvada, Colorado.

These semifinalists are among the 10,000 high scoring students on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, a test of educational development given in more than 15,000 high schools last spring. The semifinalist group is composed of the highest scoring students in each state and in the United States territories. Each moves a step closer to winning a four-year scholarship to the college of his choice.

John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation which conducts the annual program, said that "merit semifinalists represent the most promising brains in the nation. From this group of able, attractive students will come the scholars and intellectual leaders of tomorrow."

Stalnaker warned against comparing schools on the basis of the number of Semifinalists in each.

"The awards are given to students," he emphasized.

"Several factors combine to make a winner. While good schooling is one such factor, it is not the only one. Parents, friends, and the community all play an important part.

"Comparing schools on the single yardstick of the number of Semifinalists in each school can lead to unfair and unwarrented conclusions.

"The development of talent is

Solid New Beauty in 1961 Plymouth

Plymouth for 1961 has a complete new look of beauty and a new ride of stability. Long an economy leader in the low-priced field, Plymouth in 1961 has made major engineering and styling gains in the areas of economical operation, trouble-free driving, luxury-car appearance and solid riding characteristics. Twenty-six different models, five engines, four different transmissions, and 14 body colors and 30 two-tone body color combinations are offered in the 1961 Plymouth. The proven Unibody construction and Torsion-Aire ride have been retained and there is a long list of new engineering features.

Plymouth Has Feel and Look Of Solid Beauty

Plymouth for 1961 has a completely new look of beauty and a new ride of stability.

Long an economy leader in the low-priced field, Plymouth in 1961 has made major engineering and styling gains in the areas of economical operation, trouble-free driving, luxury-car appearance and solid riding characteristics.

The design of the car is smooth and uncluttered.

The new Plymouth will be shown for the first time publicly on September 29 in dealer showrooms.

Harry E. Chesebrough, general manager of the Plymouth-DeSoto-Valiant Division and vice president of Chrysler Corporation, had this to say about the new Plymouth styling:

"The function of a car is to move, and it should be designed with that purpose in mind. These cars will really perform, and they are designed to convey the feeling of performance at first glance. In styling, the new Plymouth has a look of solid beauty that gives it a whole new personality."

Viewed from the side in silhouette, the new appearance is most pronounced. Designers have reduced the mass of the rear of the car, added to the length of the hood, and used a minimum of side trim. The new design maintains superior directional stability by keeping the center of gravity and the center of pressure as close together as possible.

There are aerodynamic advantages, which reduce wind drag, in the clean front end styling and the smooth underbody resulting from UniBody construction. The concave resign of the rear quarter panels helps to achieve stability when driving in cross winds, despite the smaller mass of metal at the rear than on previous Plymouths.

Plymouth for 1961 offers 26 different models, five engines, four different transmissions, and 14 body colors and 30 two-tone body color combinations. In the Savoy line are two and four-door sedans with either 6-cylinder or V-8 engines; the Belvedere line has two and four-door sedans and a two-door hardtop, all available with either 6 or V-8 engines; in the Fury line are a four-door sedan, a two-door hardtop, a four-door hardtop, all available as either a 6 or V-8, and the convertible, offered only as a V-8. Nine different Suburban station wagons are offered: a two-door six-passenger car and a four-door six-passenger (6 or V-8) in the DeLuxe line; a four-door, six-passenger (6 or V-8) and a four-door nine-passenger (V-8 only) in the Custom line; and a four-door, six-passenger, and a four-door nine-passenger (V-8 only) in the Sport Suburban line.

Alternator Among Features

Here are some new features of the 1961 Plymouth!

An alternator replaces the old-type generator, keeping the battery charging even when the car is idling in traffic with lights, radio, and windshield wiper operating. This lengthens battery life, and eliminates the "won't start" complaint on cold winter mornings resulting from battery failure.

An improved carburetor needle valve saves gas because it keeps the air-gas mixture from getting too rich. It has an anti-flood feature for easier starting.

A new distributor has a Nylon rubbing block at the breaker points which lasts longer and reduces the need for adjustment to maintain fine performance.

Improvements in the steering system make steering easier.

New quiet-cushioning action built into the shock absorbers makes the ride even quieter.

New longer-lasting tires are squeal-resistant and help eliminate noise by lowering the road hum level. Life of the tread has been increased by 15 per cent.

The uni-body construction has been further refined through more precise manufacturing methods and is even more solid and quiet.

A new magnetic drive in the speedometer operates more quietly by eliminating gear noise resulting from metal-to-metal contact.

The starting system has a new solenoid shift which is quieter and longer wearing.

Brakes are more durable and smoother. They use Chrysler Corporation-built Cycleweld linings.

The new parking brake is safer, more difficult for children to release accidentally. It requires less pressure for secure holding and is in a location which makes it easier to apply.

Inner construction of seats is stronger, and there is extra cushioning to the center section of the rear seat, for added passenger comfort.

Matters Engaging Scientists Today In Various Fields

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Truth tests for political leaders, telescopes on the moon, and the real height of hurricane seas engage attention of scientists.

True or False

Psychological tests of national leaders to determine if they are telling the real truth are suggested by a prominent neuro-physiologist, Dr. Ralph Gerard of the University of Michigan.

Force is the ultimate weapon to change an opponent's mind, he remarks, and misunderstandings doub and fear can lead to a shooting war.

"If major national figures could prove that their statements are true indeed, they would allay the disbelief and distrust that normally attend such pronouncements," Dr Gerard says.

"The stamp of truth could be won if the speaker would submit to examination by lie detector or other truth-detection procedures."

Moon Gazing

One grand dream of astronomers is to place an astronomical observatory on the moon. Telescopes there could look out with startling clarity at distant stars and galaxies, since the moon has no air to distort vision.

But would such an expensive observatory be banged disastrously by meteorites? Man-made satellites are finding space is full of tiny speck-like bits of meteoritic dust.

Yet it appears there may not be very many really large and damaging meteoritic missiles, says Dr. Harrison Brown, geochemist of California Institute of Technology. He estimates there may be only one meteorite weighing one gram (1-28th of an ounce) or more for every 100 thousand billion cubic kilometers of space. A kilometer is a bit over half a mile.

Hurricane Secrets

Some sailors report waves during hurricanes are 100 feet high. Some ocean scientists think 50 feet is about the limit.

The answer will be forthcoming from special devices to measure wave height, installed in floating weather stations or buoys, by the U.S. Navy. One will be anchored off Barbados Island; the other will drift 500 miles east of the Lesser Antilles where hurricanes traditionally spawn.

The new wave-height knowledge is expected to be helpful not only in understanding hurricanes, but also in advising ships about safest and most efficient courses.

Women Aware Of Real Campaign Issues: Wilson

HUDSON, N.Y. (AP) — Women have an "exceptional awareness & understanding of the basic issue of this campaign," Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson maintains.

Wilson said Tuesday night people who thought women voters would be swayed in November by "frivolous issues" were mistaken. "They are not going to be influenced by the way a presidential candidate combs his hair or how much his wife spends for clothes," he said.

Wilson, who is Upstate coordinator of the Republican campaign, spoke at the annual dinner of the Women's Republican Club of Columbia County in nearby West Ghent.

The basic issue of the campaign, he said, is "the capacity of the next president and vice president to lead this nation and the free world in our struggle against atheistic communism."

He added that he had found "a general conviction" among the women that the Nixon-Lodge Republican ticket was best fitted for the task.

SIGNIFICANCE OF THE BARBECUE

About the time folks were getting used to the hazards of modern living, along came geniuses who changed everything.

It seems like only 20 years ago when the little woman, her hair in curlers, put on the coffee pot and, after she got the old grouch off to earn his pay check, she'd work like a dog all day, and then get a big dinner for the old man.

Nowadays her hair is permanently frizzed and doesn't look so bad even in the morning. Coffee is started by an electric clock before she gets out of bed. House-cleaning is for the birds with appliances and detergents, washing is automatic and the evening meal comes half-cooked and frozen from the supermarket.

Not that anybody complains, but it's hard to get used to these things. The voids are hard to fill.

When the little woman went to market in the old days, she'd let the neighbors know about it by grinding car gears. The family bus sounded like a rivet gun and hopped down the street like a jack rabbit. Today there is no clutch and shifting gears is automatic. We've all been robbed of something to talk about.

And another "for example" is that long distance calls are just nothing.

It used to be that when the phone rang there was a thrill when the operator said, "Dallas is calling." You'd guess that Cousin Joe was in jail, or what was worse, coming for a visit. Now you answer, and you hear Cousin Joe wish you Happy Halloween.

When you call long distance you don't have the important feeling that came when you told the operator, "I want to talk to INhibition 0-0000 in Los Angeles." You simply dial with a few extra twists, like you were calling up a friend to borrow a fin.

Those harrowing Sunday drives disappeared with the advent of the turnpike. No slow drivers queque up traffic, no traffic signals, no pedestrians, no cross roads, no sharp turns. You have less worries than when the engine ate oats.

You don't need initiative anymore. Everything is preplanned, precooked, electronic or automatic.

That's why outdoor barbecues are so popular. They give a man a chance to build a fire all by himself. With an electric fire starter, of course.

POLITICAL AUTOMATION

Automation is unexpectedly affecting our political parties. More and more government statistical work is being done by machines, which means fewer and fewer jobs for election workers. Camputers are used extensively in the Census Bureau, the Department of Defense, the Veterans Bureau and the Social Security System.

A House subcommittee headed by Rep. John Lesinski of Michigan has been surveying the situation for months. It has been considering the same steps that industry as a rule puts into operation when substituting machines for human workers. One important step is adequate notice of the change, giving employes who might be displaced a chance to learn to handle the new apparatus.

In any case, the prospect is for fewer jobs for party workers. While some congressmen would regard this as calamitous, many find the patronage problem annoying and more apt to produce enemies than friends. If the hardships of employes displaced by machines can be minimized, these congressmen will not object seriously to the spread of automation.

BY ANY OTHER NAME

New regulations by Cuba's weather bureau won't allow "American" hurricanes in Cuba.

Actually, the hurricanes will be the same; just the names will be changed. Instead of English feminine names, often untranslatable into Spanish, they'll be given Spanish code names.

THE CAMPAIGN — V

While the election of the President is very important, it is never the whole story. In our form of government, the center of power is in the Congress, in both Houses, and the election of Senators and Representatives is equally vital to the welfare of the nation. Only too often, they are passed over in the excitement of the Presidential campaign, particularly in these days when television makes the debate more exciting than it really is.

During both Eisenhower Administrations, the Congress was usually Democratic which made for delay and confusion. Were it not for the statesmanship of Senator Lyndon Johnson, the Democratic Leader in the Senate and now candidate for Vice President, and Speaker Sam Rayburn, the business of the country would have been at a standstill. For it is Congress that appropriates the money for government operations and which determines fundamental government policy. The administrative agencies of government also make policy by day-by-day procedures, but it is Congress which can undo anything that an administrative agency does or can even abolish the agency.

On the whole, the Congress of the United States is a superior body of men who represent every section of the country and every phase of American life. There is still a predominance of lawyers, but there are also businessmen, labor union men, professors in universities, farmers, almost every kind of person. It is a cross-section of American life and truly representative.

The tendency in recent years in both parties has been to elect to the Senate and the House of Representatives candidates who are neither conservatives nor radicals. Among the conservatives who remain in Congress, Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire is up for re-election this year. Senator Bridges is the leader of the Republicans in the Senate. He has been in the Senate 24 years and has served on some of its most important committees. His influence upon his Republican colleagues has been enormous, particularly since the death of Senator Robert A. Taft to whose position he succeeded. It is very important for the conservative elements in the country that Senator Bridges be re-elected this year. So few men of his experience and quality remain in the upper house.

He may, for the first time in his career, encounter some difficulty should Senator John Kennedy carry New Hampshire as he well may. Senator Bridges is popular in his state and the assumption is that he will be re-elected.

Another Republican whose re-election to the Senate is regarded as essential to the continuity of the Republican leadership is Senator Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota. Senator Mundt in both the House of Representatives and the Senate has been supporting sound legislation and has served on some of the most important committees of Congress. It was while Karl Mundt was temporarily presiding over the House Committee on Un-American Activities that Richard Nixon, then a novice in Congress, found his opportunity to uncover the activities of Alger Hiss. Mundt played an enormous role in uncovering Communist infiltration in government, a condition which is now exposing itself again.

It is interesting that both Senators Bridges and Mundt started their careers as teachers.

Among the Democrats, conservatives will favor Senator John L. McClellan of Arkansas who has been a member of the Senate Committee on Government Operations. He has been a firm supporter of the Hoover Commission recommendations. As presiding officer of the principal investigations into subversion and into labor union practices, he has been outstandingly judicial as well as judicious.

I mention only these three because were I a voter in their states, I would vote for these men. They have had long service, know how our particular and peculiar government functions and understand how the Congress operates in relationship to the Executive. One of the difficulties that a newcomer to Congress faces is his assumption that the Congress is a debating society, not a working body. The orators soon discover that the leadership lies not among those who, like Senator Wayne Morse, talk a lot but rather among those, like Senators Bridges, Mundt and McClellan, who work hard.

In a Presidential election it is too often overlooked that other names are on the ballots. This leads to what is called the straight vote; that is, for all on the same line with the Presidential candidate. Often excellent men are lost to the country because of this.

★ The Doctor Says ★

Two Basic Questions Govern Doctor's Asthma Approach

BY HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Almost without exception, those who request suggestions for the relief of asthma inquire hopefully about the factor of climate — which is of minor importance, if indeed it has any importance at all.

Before anything of value can be accomplished for the asthmatic, at least two vital questions must be answered by a thoroughly qualified physician.

1. Is the patient afflicted with true bronchial asthma?

2. If so, what is the cause of the affliction?

Let me explain the importance of these questions in greater detail.

In the strict medical sense, bronchial asthma is caused by spasm of the circular muscles that surround the bronchial tubes. As a result of this spasm, it is difficult for the lungs to expell inspired air.

The problem then is not that of ordinary breathlessness in which there is difficulty in obtaining and using the atmospheric air that surrounds us.

It involves getting rid of the air that's been trapped in the lungs by spastic bronchial muscles. That's why the chest of the asthmatic appears blown up like that of a pouter pigeon. And that's why he makes wheezing and whistling sounds as you would if you blew up your cheeks and then let little puffs of air escape through pursed lips.

Thus you see, true bronchial asthma is quite a different affliction from what is often (and incorrectly) called "cardiac asthma," in which the breathlessness is due to some profound disturbance of the heart or blood vessels. And it differs, too, from the respiratory distress that results from diseases of the lungs, not associated with spasm of the bronchial musculature.

Now the answer to the second vital question places even greater demands on the resources of the examining physician.

For the cause of the individual asthmatic attack is exposure of the highly sensitized allergic person to the particular substance (allergen) to which he has become sensitive for some reason that medical science has thus far been unable to discover.

I'll go into greater detail about the part allergens play in the production of asthma in a later column.

* * *

And I'll have suggestions about what you can do to help your doctor discover the allergic culprit and maybe cure yourself

"How Do You Kill a Ghost?"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Nikita Khruschev's warm up pitches to the UN General Assembly for "insuring a stable peace" and "reaching agreement on disarmament under strict international controls" were curve balls, wide of the plate.

This is not his usual delivery. His customary pitch is a bean ball. In the past he has opposed all international disarmament controls. And he has done everything he could to disturb the peace.

What the score book shows is that in the world series as played on the United Nations grounds for the last 15 years, the Russians have concentrated only on breaking up the ball game.

They have thrown 90 vetoes in the Security Council. Most recent — three days before the General Assembly opening—was on the Tunisia-Ceylon resolution approving Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's conduct of UN operations in The Congo.

The Russians have broken up UN-sponsored disarmament conferences at least eight times since they first rejected the Baruch plan for international control of atomic energy in 1946.

The most recent Soviet walkout on a UN disarmament conference was in Geneva last June. This was only three weeks after the talks had been resumed following Khrushchev's break-up of the summit.

THE THIRD SET OF FACTS which puts the Russians in the UN cellar position are that even when they've voted to play ball, they've acted independently to spike the other players and break up every game on the schedule.

That is just what's happened in The Congo. Russia originally voted for the Security Council resolution to restore order in the newly independent nation. A UN emergency force was sent in to end civil war and stabilize peace. Then the Russians—acting alone and in violation of the agreement—flew in their own personnel and supplies to work against the UN effort.

In summary, Soviet Russia has done more to wreck the UN than all the other countries of the world put together. It is not just that the Russians have refused to co-operate on UN projects. They have obstructed them.

The list of such contrary actions is long and impressive. But it is worth keeping in mind now, when Khrushchev is asking in effect, "Why doesn't the rest of the world co-operate with us now to achieve disarmament and establish peace?"

Only a few weeks ago, the Security Council passed a resolution calling on all nations to refrain from threats of force and violence in international relations. Russia voted for it. But a few days later Khrushchev was threatening to launch rockets against the U. S. to support Cuba's Castro.

More than a dozen U. N. resolutions have condemned Soviet aggression and Communist suppression of human rights in Hungary. Russia has not just ignored these resolutions.

Khrushchev even now flaunts his defiance of the U. N. by bringing with him his Hungarian puppet, Janos Kadar.

YEARS AGO the U. N. voted for reunification of Germany on basis of free elections. Russia has consistently refused to allow such elections in East Germany. And Khrushchev is even now apparently plotting new moves of East German aggression against West Germany and the western sectors of Berlin.

The U. N. acted promptly to save South Korea from Communist aggression in 1950, after the Russians had walked out of the U. N. After the Russians came back in and since the cease-fire agreement, they have blocked all U. N. efforts for Korean reunification. The item is still on the General Assembly agenda this year, but Russia will block it.

Time after time, Communist members of the U. N. have refused to pay a share of the costs of programs where Russia opposed their purposes. The prime example is Russia's refusal to support the U. N. emergency force keeping peace in the Near East.

IN LINE WITH PAST ACTIONS, Russia will probably make no contributions to support the U. N. emergency force in The Congo. This despite the fact that the General Assembly's special session voted 70-0 to support the U. N. program in Africa.

The 10 Communist nations abstained from voting on this constructive measure. This shows how much real interest they have in "insuring a stable peace."

Debate Called a Good Show, But Little Help to Voters

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—As a show and a novelty, the "great debate" between Vice-President Nixon and Sen. Kennedy came up to expectations. As a substantial help to millions upon millions of uninformed voters, it was a failure.

Even many of the voters with a high school or college education who know the meanings of the big words had difficulty with the generality of the answers and the slick phrases that give little understanding of the issues being talked about.

If this is to be the formula for the "great debate," the next three shows may attract smaller audiences. Many voters will be bored and turn off their sets unless the candidates can get down to brass tacks and give the people some basic information to guide them in making up their minds.

As it is, both candidates last night seemed to be after the same thing. They tried to avoid giving offense to anybody. They wanted to help everybody, and to define their "objectives" and "goals." They didn't come to grips with any single issue. They appeared to be saying over and over again that their aims are the same but that each would try to attain such aims by different means. If that's the only difference between the candidates or the party platforms, then the voters will have an increasingly difficult time making his choice based on what is said in the television debates.

Terms Called Vague

There are 75,000,000 Americans who will vote this year. Assuming that they all have television sets and that they all turned them on and gave up their personal engagements for the evening, how many actually understood what was said? How many of the millions grasped the nuances and fine points on Federal aid to education in one plan or another? How many knew the meaning of the differing votes and parliamentary tactics inside the House Rules Committee in holding up a bill that the Senate had already passed? How many knew when America is "standing still" or "moving ahead"? How many knew what was really meant by such vague terms as "inflation" or the "rate of economic growth" or "gross national product"? It was over the heads of the audience.

Once or twice during the evening the candidates got down to cases. When Sen. Kennedy, for instance, said he would increase Social Security payments, Vice-President Nixon quickly pointed out that this would mean higher payments for Social Security taxes. This touches the pocketbook of the voter and is readily understood.

'Experience' Issue

As for the subject of "experience," many in the audience couldn't get from what was said a clear idea of either candidate's ability to be President. Sen. Kennedy said he has been in Congress as long as Mr. Nixon has. The Vice-President said he has attended Cabinet meetings and National Security Council sessions and that he has participated in all the important meetings at the White House before major decisions were made in the last seven-and-a-half years.

But what does all this add up to Sen. Kennedy wisely remarked that perhaps an outline of experience is helpful, but it really couldn't tell the voter what kind of President a candidate would make.

All in all, what did the television stunt do that was better than what is normally done in Presidential campaigns? The newspapers throughout the land have always printed thousands of snapshots of the candidates. Millions of posters have always displayed big pictures of the nominees on billboards. The people have always flocked to mass meetings to see and hear the candidates and usually this has confirmed a previous prejudice or added to a preconceived measure of esteem. The radio networks have carried the speeches rather extensively ever since the 1924 campaign. Television has shown both party candidates in action ever since the 1944 campaign.

As for particular issues, the "great debate" failed to deal comprehensively with any of them. A speech given over entirely to the farm problem would be listened to with intense interest for an hour by a farm audience. An address in simple terms devoted wholly to the rise or fall in the cost of living or to the best way to promote self-reliance rather than government control of everybody's life would, if thoroughly covered in an hour-long speech, give the listener far more of an idea of the differences between the two Presidential nominees than was possible from Monday night's show.

Queries Held Far Afield

Any of the half-hour panel shows that permit newsmen a chance to interrogate and cross-examine a single speaker are far more interesting and aid the individual voter more than the catch-as-catch-can affair of Monday night. The questions asked were too far afield and didn't explain basic principles or fundamental differences. The interrogatories were of the provocative type, which the two candidates, of course, skillfully parried. It was good showmanship but not very informative.

After all, there are more than 100,000,000 eligible voters. Of these, 75,000,000 are expected to vote this autumn. What's the common denominator of 75,000,000 men and women? Certainly it is not an electorate as well informed as are the commentators or the interviewers or the candidates. The participants in Monday night's television spectacular missed a big opportunity to help the people to understand the issues.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The Pure Food and Drug Act was designed to prevent deceptive labeling of many nervines which, on their whole record, shared a reputation as benign perunas, good for the human race. To be sure, maverick medicines had held forth exaggerated promise of irresistible charm to patients of both genders, and sinister mixtures of buchu and sherry had warmed the veins of teetotal deacons beyond the bounds of seemliness. For that reason and because he was drugged by heady sniffers of notoriety, Doctor Harvey W. Wiley caused Congress to impose restraints which took all the adventure out of the rural medicine cabinet.

I perceive now the materials of a similar case in our journalism.

For example, I submit the case of John Herling, a syndicated pundit on "labor" who appears in Roy Howard's Washington Daily News and in the publications of David Dubinsky and the structural iron workers among others. In the words of John L. Lewis, Mr. Howard sups with labor, Albeit with a long spoon, and with the ogres of reaction. He ran my audacious early essays on racketeers in the Hollywood unions, the hod carriers, teamsters and window-cleaners, But, he later hired a time-expired secretary to Norman Thomas and Factotum of the Socialist Party, John Herling, to get him right with God for his evil work in printing Pegler. The time-expired secretary to Norman Thomas is John Herling, but Mr. Howard did not announce that he was a high Socialist and an immovable partisan of the unions which he was hired to discuss.

Mrs. Herling, known also as Mary Fox, also was a secretary to Thomas. They are, singly and together, Socialists themselves. Mr. Herling was for years an official of the League for Industrial Democracy, a rebellious if not openly revolutionary letterhead founded by Jack London. He was known as the alter ego of Mr. Thomas before he became a "columnist" presenting the "Other Side." He is a propagandist of the unions as a political force.

It came to my notice during his reports on the Puerto Rico convention of the AFL-CIO which coincided with the dramatic triumph of Fidel Castro that the AFL-CIO and Mr. Herling looked on that with a glad eye. The AFL-CIO was counting on Castro for big things Santo Domingo, which, all of us know, is a bloody tyranny whereas Castro's is a reign of love. A massacre in Ciudad Trujillo seemed imminent and not necessarily repugnant.

Is my view unreasonable that a man who has been an official of socialist organizations and has lived long in an atmosphere of union corruption without ever passing any remark is a partisan of "the other side"? Then may I say further that the scoundrels of the union racket whom Herling failed to put the finger on or blow the whistle at are clients of a partisan forbearance?

I have often read and heard that "labor" would clean house if Pegler would shut his big loud mouth. But for years I have devoured the works of perhaps fifty reporters on the "labor" run without coming upon a single instance of conscientious indignation. They work in the sewer and keep unaware. They puzzle me, all of them, but Mr. Herling more than most.

Senator Barry Goldwater studied Herling's work in Mr. Howard's Washington paper throughout the long inquiry of the McClellan Committee and reported that "until the merger of the AFL-CIO," his stuff so strongly favored Walter Reuther that George Meany avoided him as a Reuther stooge.

On my own label, the formula is plain: "Not a member of the Socialist Party nor the Communist Party nor any Communist front; not an accomplice or partisan of any union or association of employers."

That seems a fair minimum to require of anyone purporting to give either or both "sides" of labor.

The truth should be the only side.

Levitt Disagrees With McMorran On State Roads

NEWARK, N.Y. (AP) — The state's public works superintendent says highway construction in New York is tops, but the state comptroller doesn't agree.

The superintendent is a Republican. The comptroller is a Democrat.

Comptroller Arthur Levitt told the Wayne County Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night that an increase in the construction of high-speed highways in the state was vital in fostering industrial development.

In Albany, Supt. J. Burch McMorran said the state was providing better highways to all motorists, in both high-speed expressways and rural roads.

McMorran's speech was read at a meeting of the executive committee of the State Highway Users Conference. He was unable to attend because of a previous commitment, he said.

Road building was part of a program Levitt outlined suggesting the state help local governments in industrial expansion.

Levitt said tax incentives were not of major importance in bettering the business climate. He said adequate space, transportation, labor supply and government surpluses were "of far more importance" in the decision of business to settle in a particular place.

Steel Mill Gets Ready for Strike, Plant Will Close

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Production at the Bethlehem Steel Corp., in nearby Lackawanna, the world's fourth largest mill, headed for a slowdown today and a shutdown Thursday in the face of a strike by South Buffalo Railway employes.

About 575 members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen (conductors and brakemen) have set a 6 a.m. deadline for the walkout Thursday.

An estimated 25,000 workers with a weekly payroll of about $2.5 million will be affected, including the nearly 15,000 at the steel plant.

Conductors receive $3.16 an hour, while brakemen are paid $2.98 an hour.

A union spokesman said the dispute concerned wages, work rules and an interpretation of the steel agreement.

He said the men had been working without a contract for nearly a year.

The railroad is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the steel corporation.

Steel workers and other railroad union members are expected to honor picket lines.

A steel corporation spokesman said the plant would be forced to shut down for a lack of railroad services.

Expanding School Program Has Priority in Legislature

Further expansion of facilities for higher education will have priority in the 1960 session of the New York State Legislature.

This is what Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson told a group of Republican campaign workers at a meeting in the Ulster County Court House, Monday night.

Wilson, who is seking re-election, said provision must be made for the increasing number of young men and women seeking higher education in the years ahead.

The challenge will be met by the same type of Republican leadership that created the State University which has 48 institutions, including 20 community colleges, he said.

Wilson, who is GOP chairman of Ulster County, said, "The critical teacher shortage in public elementary schools continues and will last at least through 1965. The shortage is now beginning to be felt in the junior high schools and in certain academic areas of high schools."

Only a continued increase in enrollment of State University Colleges can prevent these shortages, Wilson said.

The University, he emphasized, has reported an increase of more than 30 per cent in the number of applications for admission t aoll units of the University as compared to a year ago.

Program Underway

"A $353 million capital construction program proposed by the University trustees to provide for University expansion necessary through 1965 is well under way and on schedule," Assemblyman Wilson said. "Currently it is being financed by a pay-as-you-go appropriations in the Republican administration's budget with the $250 million bond issue authorized and voted for State University being kept largely in reserve. Currently, budget appropriations total more than $50 millions for State University projects. It is anticipated the University will need to request an appropriation of as much as $75 million in the next state budget."

Cites GOP Progress

Pointing to what he called the Republicans' excellent record in education, Wilson expressed confidence that this new challenge would be solved by the same type of leadership that created the State University which now has 48 institutions, including 20 community colleges and also established Harpur College, a four-year liberal arts college; launched the State University College on Long Island, a four-year college of mathematics, science and engineering; created the School of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell University; acquired and expanded two medical schools at Brooklyn and Syracuse; increased state scholarships to 8,049 in 1960; created the Higher Education Assistance Corporation to encourage bank loans to students to finance their college education; and appropriated state funds to enable students to participate in the Federal College Loan plan.

Jewish High Holy Day, Yom Kippur Begins on Friday

Yom Kippur, the holiest day of the Jewish calendar, will be observed in homes and synagogues throughout the world beginning at sunset, Friday, Sept. 30.

Yom Kippur is Hebrew for Day of Atonement, a time devoted to self-examination and the determination to live on a higher moral plane in the future. It marks the conclusion of the ten-day period of repentance which begins with Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year.

The Yom Kippur eve syngogue liturgy begins with the singing of the celebrated and majestic Kol Nidre Hebrew for "all vows" a musical plea for divine remission of hasty and impetuous decisions.

The prayers and sermons at the religious services which last most of Yom Kippur Day, stress man's capacity to use the powers given him by God to overcome error and dereliction.

Typical of the worship service on Atonement Day, observed by many with total abstinence from food and drink, is this passage from the Union Prayerbook: "Those who have been bruised and beaten down in life's battle He would have restored to their birthright of freedom and independence. In His all-wise providence, God has appointed this Day of Atonement to reconcile each human being to his destiny, and to restore peace and tranquility to every heart and home."

Kennedy to Meet With Dairymen Friday Morning

SYRACUSE—Executive secretary of Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Association, Inc., commended presidential candidate John F. Kennedy today for accepting an invitation to meet with dairy farmers and cooperative leaders.

Senator Kennedy announced recently that he will meet the group at a breakfast on Friday 8:30 a. m. in the Hotel Syracuse.

"We are happy to learn that Senator Kennedy has taken the occasion to meet with us in the northeast," said John C. York, executive secretary of eastern.

"Dairying is our largest industry. For example in New York State the value of dairy products sold in 1959 was over 430 million dollars."

The meeting with the presidential candidate is in response to a resolution passed by 800 dairy farmers attending two mass meetings called by Eastern Milk Producers — one held in Utica, Aug. 11 and another in Lewisburg, Pa. Aug. 12.

Adventists Plan Local Visitation

Visiting Adventists will leave at each home a brief statement entitled "Worried World." Referring to the visiting program, the Rev. Eric R. Norman, pastor, said, "It is our purpose through these visits to call the attention of our neighbors to the fact that the Bible deals with the problems that are worrying the world."

The minister said that the Wednesday evening prayer service at the Adventist Church would turn its attention to national needs as well as those of the private citizen.

Khrushchev in debate on the Congo was even more acrimonious.

The Soviet motion was titled "Threat to the Political Independence and Territorial Integrity of the Republic of the Congo." In the attached memorandum, the Soviets called for "stopping Belgian aggression against the Republic of the Congo, removing all interventionist (meaning non-African) troops from its territory, proting its independence and sovereignty from infringement by the colonialists."

After more than four hours of dispute, the committee voted to shelve indefinitely the question of whether to recommend to the General Assembly that the matter be placed on the Assembly's agenda.

The vote was 11-7, with one abstention, on a British motion to adjourn debate.

Voting in favor were Britain, Canada, Nationalist China, Costa Rica, France, Haiti, Italv Japan, Pakistan, Panama and the United States. Venezuela abstained, Sudan did not vote and Ceylon, Iraq, Libya, Bulgaria, Romania, Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union voted against.

The merry-go-round of personal diplomacy whirled at a dizzy pace, meanwhile.

Hammarskjold was visited by Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, India's Prime Minister Nehru, President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, and Crown Prince Moulay el Hassan, vice premier of Morroco.

Macmillan also had a 40-minute talk with President Tito of Yugoslavia.

Castro conferred alone with Nasser, Tito, Wladyslaw Gomulka, chief of the Polish Communist party, and Nehru.

Nehru also was host at a dinner in his hotel to Khrushchev, Castro and between 50 and 60 other government chiefs and foreign ministers.

Highway Deaths In State Fewer Than Last Year

Motor vehicle accident deaths in New York State continued on a downward trend during August, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles William S. Hults announced today, when he disclosed figures taken from accident reports show that there were 50 fewer deaths, or 23 per cent, this year than in August of 1959.

The commissioner said the decrease also reflected in totals for the eight months of January through August, 159 less fatalities than during the same period last year. The death toll on the highways during the eight-month period was 171 compared to 221 during the same period in 1959.

Hults said August was the seventh straight month that fatalities were less than during the same month of 1959, with only January showing an increase, and that of only five.

In only one area, that of cities outside of New York Cty, has there been an increase from the eight-month period of 1959, Hults noted. There, fatalities increased by 22, or 19 per cent. Rural areas were down 11 per cent while New York City deaths dropped by 18 per cent.

Mother, Sitter Held in Beating Of Child, Six

ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP)—Two young women were arrested Tuesday and held on charges of felony childbeating.

Police counted 167 welts, bruises and cuts on the head and body of Michael Weaver, 6, after the boy's teachers reported the youngster had been hurt.

Michael told police he had been beaten by his mother and a baby sitter because he had wandered away from the baby sitter's home and had later cut a sofa.

Arrested were Michaels mother, Sarah Weaver, 26, and the baby-sitting neighbor, Jeannette Strauser, 21.

Police Inspector Don Hooper said the women beat the youngster with a rolled newspaper, a wire coat hanger, an electric cord, tree branches and a shoe.

To Seek Views Of Psychiatrists On Driving Habits

At a unique type of public hearing, the Joint Legislative Committee on Motor Vehicles and Traffic Safety will ask psychologists and psychiatrists on Monday for their opinions about why people drive carelessly and what laws would have the best remedial effect.

Six prominent phychologists from three states who have studied traffic safety, a psychiatrist, and a psychoanalyst, will speak at a committee-sponsored "Symposium on the Psychological Aspects of Traffic Safety" which will also serve as a legislative public hearing.

The symposium-hearing, the first of its kind in the nation, according to State Senator Edward J. Speno of East Meadow, L. I., committee chairman, will be held in Memorial Hall, Hofstra College, Hempstead, L. I., starting at 10 a. m. Senator Speno said he particularly hopes for information at the hearing about the hit-run driver, the speeder, the persistent violator, and what makes them tick; the teenag driver; the alcoholic and drugged driver; the long-range effectiveness of driver education in the schools; and the validity of establishing driver rehabilitation clinics, affiliated with the courts, for persistent violators.

Invitations have been sent to traffic safety groups, police departments, medical societies, high school and college educators, and to ecclesiastical organizations representing the three major faiths. It is believed that the hearing will be of educational value to the public.

It has been estimated that New York City has 1,700 Protestant churches, 1,247 Jewish temples and 445 Roman Catholic churches.

Denies Vatican Would Enter in U.S. Decisions

WASHINGTON (AP)—No pope or bishop would interfere with the activities and decisions of a Roman Catholic president, a Catholic theologian says.

In a lecture Tuesday night, Father Gustave Weigel said there is "absolutely nothing in Catholic theology which would prevent a Catholic from holding public office on any level according to the spirit and letter of our American laws."

The Jesuit priest, a professor at Maryland's Woodstock College, said "the Pope does not meddle with the political activity" of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer or French President Charles de Gaulle, both Catholic.

"Nor would either man permit it," Father Weigel added.

Another Use of Suit Preference

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

East really should have overcalled the opening diamond bid with one spade, but he had only five high card points and chose to pass. Had East overcalled, the chances are that he would have wound up playing and making five spades doubled, but his silence made South declarer at five clubs.

West opened the ace of hearts, East followed with his singleton four and South made the mistake of falsecarding with the nine. This left the three spot as the missing heart and West was pretty sure that his partner did not hold it.

Accordingly, West played a second heart. Which one did he play? He played his lowest—the five spot, East ruffed and his normal return would be a spade, but West's low heart was an obvious suit preference and called for the low suit so East obliged by playing a diamond.

West ruffed and the hand was down. The suit preference signal could not salvage the spade game that East's original pass had lost, but it did keep North and South from winning the rubber.

She Can Wait

NEW YORK (AP) — Star Helen Hayes doesn't mind waiting a bit for completion of a play based upon the life of Elsie de Wolfe, who as Lady Mendl became a leading figure of international society. The drama is being written for Miss Hayes by Anita Loos. "Elsie died at the age of 92," notes the renowned actress. "There's one part I can wait for until Anita is ready."

NYLON STOCKINGS ARE FOR THE BIRDS — Jim Madden examines nylon stockings which have been placed over the heads of Milo which plant breeders of the Missouri State Farmers Assn. wish to save for study and observation. The nylon is sheer enough to let grain dry, yet protects it from greedy birds. The nursery is located in Marshall, Mo.

Furcolo Action May Put Off GE Strike 15 Days

NEW YORK (AP) — A nationwide strike threatened for Sunday against the General Electric Co. appears likely to be postponed 15 days.

New hope for averting a strike w.: raised Tuesday when Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts intervened in negotiations between the company and the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE).

Furcolo, in a telephone call to Union President James B. Carey, offered to get together with the governors of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Kentucky at a meeting here "to see if they could be instrumental in averting a strike."

GE has major plants in the states the governors represent.

Carey replied that if such a conference were arranged he would recommend to the union's conference board that the strike be postponed 15 days.

The conference board will meet here Friday. It is expected to authorize a strike already approved by a majority of the approximately 70,000 IUE members in GE plants across the country. There are about 100 other unions in GE plants. The second largest is the independent United Electrical Workers (UE).

The company repeated its opposition to Carey proposals for arbitration or a fact - finding board. "Any other type of third party intervention would serve no useful purpose," GE said.

The company also said it knew nothing of Furcolo's action and would have no comment on it.

Gov. Rockefeller told a reporter in Ogdensburg last night that he, too, knew nothing of Furculo's proposal.

Two favorite panties in the wonderful new knit fabric eiderlon®

Have you read about Eiderlon, the new wonderblend knit? It makes undies softer than a drift of petals! Makes panties you can machine-wash, machine-dry, even though they're superfine knit. Eiderlon is a special blend of finest rayon with the gentle "bloom" of combed cotton — so it's especially absorbent. And it's opaque, the way you like your undies. Comes in white that's whiter than any white knit; pastels that are clearer and brighter, because of a new quality called vibrancy!

OCS Board Moves for Options On Possible Building Sites

An expansion program that would include a new eight room school in the town of Shandaken and a six or eight room addition to the Woodstock school was projected at a special meeting of the Onteora Central Schools District Board of Education this week.

Total cost of the 14 or 16-room additions to the present district facilities would be "under one million dollars," it is anticipated.

Board action in the direction of the new building program took place after the school architect, John H. Clark of Poughkeepsie, had presented a cost estimate for new elementary school facilities. The architect was authorized to inspect two potential building sites—the so-called Weatherby-Epstein site in the Town of Shandaken and a site in the Mount Pleasant area.

In the meantime, the Board will seek options from the owners of the two sites and establish purchase price, if the owners are willing to sell. The architectural firm will examine the topographical layout to determine on which of the sites building would be most feasible. The Board, it is understood, will lean heavily on the architect's recommendations before announcing final plans.

The Board's action also eliminated any further expansion at the West Hurley elementary school. In his cost estimate recommendations, the architect wrote:

"Because of the type of structure at West Hurley (wood frame), the limitations of the present boiler room, necessity for new electric service and facilities, and the necessity of installing a completely new sewage system, consisting of a sand filter field and drainage line to a stream, I do not recommend that an addition be added to the building."

Clark's original estimate for a new eight-room school at Shandaken totalled $536,500 and for an eight-room addition at Woodstock, $541,000 for a total of $1,077,000. These figures were rejected as excessive by the Board and after changing some details and eliminating others, the Board and the architect arrived at an estimated cost of $484,000 for the new school at Shandaken and $440,000 for the addition to Woodstock for a total of $924,000. These figures do not include cost of sites, but Board president, Philip Gordon, said he thought the estimates could be $900,000."

The eight-room addition to the Woodstock school would require expansion of the present site from 9 acres to 12 acres and include the following additional facillities to the existing building: Seven standard classrooms and one kindergarten, one two-station playroom, a library, conference room, new health suite, new teachers room, new kitchen and storage, new boilers room, toilet facilities and storage areas.

The $440,000 estimated cost would also include addition, alterations, site work, furnishings, sewage, fees, administration, insurance, legal services, clerk of the works, but not site costs.

Aalto Dissents

The revised estimates for the new eight-room school in Shandaken include seven classrooms and one kindergarten, one combination playroom, cafeteria and stage, kitchen, administration facilities, health suite, boiler room, toilet facilities, storage areas and library.

Trustee John Aalto, an outspoken advocate of a large addition to the Woodstock school, abstained on the vote to authorize the architect's inspection on the site and securing of options.

During the Board's discussion which embraced a wide variety of opinions, Trustee Aalto vigorously defended his position. He said he deplored what seemed to him to be a tendency to "move downward in our elementary facilities." He said the primary concern should be the education of the children, not retrogression.

"I am strongly in favor of 21 and 28-room schools," said Aalto. "They are cheaper in the long run." Trustee Janet Greene suggested the use of the new Bennett school solely for fifth and sixth grade pupils and said keeping larger number of pupils together would mean better education. If all were put in the Bennett school, it would reduce the number of rooms needed.

Trustee Aalto then asked the question: Would people be willing to have their fifth and sixth graders travel to the central school? If Boiceville is converted exclusively to fifth and sixth grade what happens to the Samsonville area?

On the long range basis, Trustee Greene raised the possibility of new elementary schools in the towns of Shandaken and Olive and additions to the Woodstock school.

Aalto persisted in his reasoning that if children had to travel long distances there would be trouble. He reiterated his opinion that "moving backward in size of schools will not satisfy the people in the district."

Donald Jennings, John Swenson Guild Trustees

The Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen held its annual meeting on Sept. 26, its 21st birthday, in the Kleinert Wing of the Guild, with president Isabel Doughty presiding.

Two new members, Donald Jennings and John Swenson, were elected to the board of trustees which now includes Miss Doughty, president; Konrad Cramer and Martin F. Comeau, vice presidents; Mrs. Russell Cooke, treasurer, and Marie Frey, secretary.

Other members of the board are: Mrs. Carl Eric Lindin, Nan Mason, John Swenson and Mrs. Katherine Wangler. Mrs. Lamont Marvin, publicity chairman, made her annual report and thanked the area editors and broadcasters for their fine cooperation in publicizing Guild activities.

The highlight of the afternoon was guest speaker David R. Campbell of New York, president of American Craftsmen's Council. Campbell considered from many angles the craftsman's position in this rapidly changing day. He covered the picture from New England to California in graphic terms. He believes that the crafts are indigenous to areas—that what is good and popular in New England is not always acceptable in New York and vice versa. He stated that fine craftsmanship is not fading from today's picture, but is finding new fields and the craftsman must adjust his work to this highly mechanized day.

He mentioned today's newer fields as therapy, work for the retired, work with the industrial designer and emphasized liturgical opportunities. Mr. Campbell says that much craftsmanship can be integrated with today's industrial design, such as ceramics, metal, wooden, woven fabrics, stained glass and decorative objects; in fact, the crafts field really broadens if craftsmen have the imagination to conform to the changes and forms now taking place in architecture. "Craftsmen have a lifelong job," concluded Mr. Campbell.

Mr. Campbell ended by showing slides of the crafts combined with architecture and single pieces. These included highly imaginative conceptions in ceramics, including ceramic screens and wall panels, richly textured woven fabrics, woodwork and jewelry.

A pleasant social hour with refreshments followed on the rear terrace.

N. J. Man Returned For Dutchess Trial

A 42-year-old New Jersey man, who was indicted by a Dutchess County grand jury on charges of third degree burglary and first degree grand larceny arising from an entry at the Pleasant Valley school, has been returned to Poughkeepsie.

Sheriff C. Fred Close identified the defendant as, Alonzo Harry Jackson, of Irvington, N. J., who is accused of breaking into the school on Nov. 21, 1955, and taking $450 in cash, a $135 camera and $20 carrying case.

Close said deputies recovered the carema and case, but did not locate the money.

(Morgan Davis & Co.)

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market spurted to the upside after four days of decline, leaving the list slightly higher in slow trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .40 to 206.10 with the industrials up .80, the rails up .70 and the utilities down .10.

Gains of fractions to about a point outnumbered losers.

After a ragged start, the market rallied with the ticker tape late briefly.

The rally preceded publication of a speech by Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson in which he said the United States is nearing the end of a recession-type adjustment which paves the way for a long period of growth without inflation.

U.S. government bonds showed little change.

IBM to Purchase Buildings, Land At Poughkeepsie

Plans to exercise its option to purchase land and buildings occupied by the South Road laboratory, were made known Tuesday by International Business Machines Corporation, and it was understood the purchase price is about $2,000,000.

The property presently is owned by Spackenkill Business Center Inc., which is headed by Richard H. Satz, of Poughkeepsie.

Reporting the transaction, William J. Mair, IBM vice president and general manager, said "the large volume of extensive, long range development projects underway in the Data Systems division's laboratory organization, indicate clearly that our need for these buildings is permanent." He added, "Under these circumstances we have decided to exercise our option to purchase."

The land area to be included in the transaction totals approximately 13.5 acres, with frontage of about 1,700 feet on South Road and an average depth of 400 feet. The one-story laboratory buildings are air conditioned and modern. At present more than 850 employes of the Product Development laboratory work in the two structures.

IBM has occupied the South Road laboratory under lease since the original structure was completed in 1951. Several expansions since then, and the addition of a second building in 1958, give the facility a total of 108,000 gross square feet.

Mr. Mair made known that no changes in the buildings or property are planned at this time.

Best Papers Vital

"The best way to meet this challenge, of course, is to continue to publish the best possible newspapers, to continue to serve and to inform our readers, to continue to be the conscience of our community and, where necessary, provide the leadership in civic affairs.

"Above all, we must stress that freedom of the press is a constitutional guarantee of the right of the people to know the truth, not a grant of special privilege to any newspaper."

Scholarship . . .

a complex matter. Regardless of how talent is produced, we must recognize it and encourage its further development."

The semifinalists will take another rigorous examination, the three-hour Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board, to be given in testing centers throughout the nation on December 3, 1960.

Students whose scores on the second test substantiate their performance on the qualifying test and who are endorsed by their high schools will become finalists in the competition. In past years, more than 95 per cent of the semifinalists have become finalists.

Sponsored by 115 Firms

As finalists, the students will be eligible for scholarship awards sponsored by 115 business and industrial organizations, professional societies, foundations, individuals, and the National Merit Scholarship Corporation itself.

In the final phase of the competition, the high school grades, extra-curricular activities, school citizenship, and leadership qualities of the students will be evaluated along with their scores on the tests.

About May 1, 1961, the names of the merit scholars will be announced, the exact number depending on the extent of sponsor support of the merit program.

Wide Range of Awards

All finalists will receive certificates of merit attesting to their high ability and all colleges and universities will be informed of their names. This enables these students to be considered for a wide range of other awards. Studies show that more than 50 per cent obtain scholarship assistance from other sources.

Each merit scholarship is a four-year award to cover the undergraduate college years. The recipient's stipend is tailored to his need. Stipends have been averaging about $750 a year.

For students who require financial assistance, awards may reach a maximum of $1500 per year. For students who already possess financial resources which will enable them to attend the college of their choice, awards of $100 a year are granted.

The minimum stipend is a form of "educational insurance" for the student who receives it, because the amount will be increased at any time while he is in college if there is a significant change in his family's financial situation.

Pick Own Course

Finalists designate the college they wish to attend and the course of study they plan to pursue. The colleges chosen by the merit scholars in most instances also receive cost-of-education grants ranging up to $500 per year to help defray the actual costs of educating the students.

The merit scholarship program is now in its sixth year. It was founded in 1955 with grants from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York. The National Merit Scholarship Corporation and sponsors have thus far contributed direct financial assistance to nearly 4,000 students and their colleges.

The competition is open to students in any public, private or parochial high school in the United States and its possessions.

Recent Market Decline Seen as Temporary

Q) "Last year I took several thousand dollars out of my life savings to invest in common stocks. I'm very much upset about the present decline and the way my stocks have been acting." A. L.

A) I can appreciate your concern, but let me assure you that the stock market decline this year has traced an entirely normal and routine pattern. Investments in stocks, whether they involve a single issue or the whole broad market, are bound to fluctuate. So I certainly don't think you should get too greatly upset abut the present decline, if you hold good shares.

Nothing has yet occured to indicate to me that this is anything more than a sharp intermediate decline in a general long-term advance. The drop in many issues is really a reaction following an excess of unwarranted enthusiasm by investors who bid these stocks up a little too optimistically.

Of course, it is always advisable for you to keep a sufficient backlog of funds in some form of savings for emergencies. Your savings account is always at your beck and call when you need it— and without any sacrifice of principal. If your investments are in good quality growth and income stocks, you can ignore the intermediate swings in the market and hold on for the long-term price trend, which I believe is upward. I feel confident that your paper losses in sound and growing situations will turn out to be capital gains in the long run.

Q) "You have mentioned 'institutional buying' in past columns. What stock is the favorite of these institutions?" G. P.

A) For the last several years, Standard Oil of New Jersey (NYSE) has held the lead in terms of total number of institutions holding its shares. In terms of dollars invested, high-priced International Business Machines (NYSE) is the leader.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Air Force Puts Up Titan Shot

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force launched an operational prototype of its intercontinental-range Titan missile on the start of a 5,000-mile test flight today.

The mammoth rocket, standing 98 feet tall and weighing 125 tons on liftoff, carved a fiery path across the sky. The Air Force expected to announce test results after studying telemetry data on the flight.

Ships and planes were stationed in the impact area off Ascension Island to attempt recovery of a data capsule that was to eject from the rocket's nose cone.

The capsule carries instruments to register the cone's performance during its fiery re-entry into the earth's atmosphere.

Dems Still in Debt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Democrats left $226,000 in debts after their July national convention here, but party leaders say everyone eventually will be paid.

The officials met Tuesday, reported the indebtedness and said about $80,000 will be paid within a week to local businesses.

The balance of $146,000 will be the obligation of the National Committee which, officials said, will pay out available cash now and issue notes of indebtedness for the balance.

Unpaid bills also were left after the Republican convention in Chicago.

Jaren L. Jones of Salt Lake City said Republicans owed $92,000. The delay was caused, he said, by the need to audit accounts and "hotel bills for employes and so forth have been hard items to check."

Ex-Cuban Leader Dies

HAVANA ZAPz — Col. Carlos Mendieta y Montefur, 87, who was president of Cuba in 1934-35, died Tuesday.

Migrant Laborers Held on Gun Charges

They are Edgar Bowen, 31, and James Cobb, 36, both of Orlando, Fla.

Troopers Wallace Mahan and P. M. Luongo of the Highland staote police said Bowen had a .32 caliber revolver and Cobb a .45 caliber automatic.

They have been employed at the Hurd Farms, Clintondale. Arrest came Tuesday afternoon.

Mobutu Summons Leaders for Talks

Late Bulletin

Titan Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force launched the third straight successful operational prototype of its Titan intercontinental range missile today, hitting a target 5,000 miles away.

An announcement said the 98-foot missile achieved all flight test objectives.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Col. Joseph Mobutu dispatched 26 of his aides today into the provinces to invite political leaders to a roundtable conference that he hopes will end weeks of government chaos.

Among the scheduled air stops at the Congo's biggest cities is Elisabethville, where Mobutu's mission will try to persuade Moise Tshombe, premier of secessionist Katanga Province, to join the roundtable next week.

Mobutu indicated that, if his mission there fails, he himself may go to Elisabethville to talk Tshombe into joining the conference.

The roundtable has the blessing of Premier-designate Joseph Ileo. Ileo was named to head the government by President Joseph Kasavubu after the president fired Premier Patrice Lumumba. Ileo has not yet been approved by Parliament.

Mobutu, 29, the Congo's strong man, has made several efforts recently to achieve a reconciliation with Lumumba, but apparently with little success. Lumumba has been insisting on reconciliation on his terms—namely, retention of his premiership.

The Communist-supported Lumumba refuses to admit he has been fired and still lives grandly in the premier's luxurious riverside residence.

Critical of GOP

first if, but first now, period," he said.

An opinion poll, he said, showed that a majority of people in 12 countries felt Russia would be ahead of the United States militarily and scientifically by 1970.

"If people think that it is so it might become so," Kennedy said. "I don't think it is so, and I think we can make sure it isn't so."

Says Nixon Met Match

In introducing Kennedy at the breakfast rally, Pennsylvania's Democratic Governor David L. Larence touched off a big round of applause in referring to the Kennedy-Nixon debate and declaring:

"Monday night Richard Nixon met his match."

In a speech prepared for delivery later in the day at Lockport, N. Y., Kennedy said the federal government must take an important role in improving the lot of the general public.

Hitting indirectly at the Republican opposition, Kennedy declared:

"The issue of this campaign is not the bogus issue of how far we extend the powers of the federal government tomorrow. It is the real issue of how well we use the powers of the federal government today.

"For by its defense program, by its highway programs, by its research program, the federal government already has power to help or hurt every individual in every community. Not to use these powers to help people is to use them to hurt people."

Plans Stop in New York

Kennedy's campaign today calls for stops at North Tonawanda, Niagara Falls, Lockport and Rochester, N. Y., in a bid for New York's 45 electoral votes, juciest plum of all.

He will spend the night in Albany and campaign there and in the Mohawk Valley and Syracuse tomorrow.

Kennedy arrived in Erie late Tuesday night after a day-long tour of northern Ohio communities where he was greeted with wild enthusiasm—as he was here—by great crowds all along the way. His staff called it the biggest turnout for Kennedy in any one day since his nomination.

"If I were to say this (turnout) was between 600,000 and 700,000 people, I would not be exagerating," Ohio's Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle told Kennedy's final Ohio audience at Canton.

On the last motorcade leg of the Ohio tour—into Akron on to North Canton and then to Canton—J. Grant Keys, state highway safety director, estimated that 100,000 persons lined the route and cheered Kennedy's speeches.

In Cleveland Tuesday morning the Democratic candidate got a rip-roaring welcome from an even larger crowd than greeted him when he made a major address there Sunday. Police had estimated the earlier crowd at up to about 300,000. DiSalle said he never had seen anything "like the depth of enthusiasm and sincerity" for Kennedy.

Frank J. Lausche, a Democratic maverick who publicly threw his support to Kennedy Tuesday, expressed the same view.

In his rallies in Akron and Canton, there was pandemonium. The Akron armory, which seats about 3,200, was crammed witha great overflow crowd. There are seats for 5,680 in Canton Municipal Auditorium, but it was estimated about 7,500 were packed in there.

Hits Moving Theme

In all his speeches, Kennedy pounded away at the central theme of his campaign—that it is time for America to be moving ahead, and that it has not been moving under a Republican president at the pace it should.

"I don't think Khrushchev has had it so good as he has had it lately. He has been moving outward and he has done it by unrelenting efforts to demonstrate that his society represents the way to the future," Kennedy said.

There was thunderous applause when the Massachusetts senator added:

"I want to entertain him (Khrushchev) with a vision of a United States on the move. I am tired of reading every day what he says and what (Cuba's Prime Minister) Castro says. I want to begin to see the United States moving ahead."

6,271 Residents Of Ulster County Get Chest X-rays

A total of 6,271 residents of Ulster County including 176 at Hutton and Star Brickyards, have received free chest X-rays in the current survey started September 12.

Today the mobile unit completed its visit at the two brickyards. This is part of the program for the Depatment of Labor's Industrial Hygiene Division.

Some years ago workers in this type of industry were X-rayed and the present brickyard check is being done to enable scientists to continue their studies. Volunteers assisting at the brickyard are the Misses Katherine M. Murphy, Almena Porter and Mabel R. Robinson. Miss Hazel M. Steed, RN, executive director of Ulster County TB and Health Association, had praise today for the 331 volunteers who served as registrars and workers in the five towns covered.

The educational campaign conducted in conection with the survey, included worker orientation meetings where films were shown and discussions held on the importance of the chest X-ray in finding unknown tuberculosis early. As a part of the orientation, the public health nurses outlined plans for follow-up services provided by the Department of Health and Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, in cooperation with the private physician named before X-rayed.

Everyone who took advantage of this community chest X-ray service will receive a report. The coordinator said today, "some of those done early in the schedule have already received their cards. If the specialists making interpretations of the films report anything but normal, then the individual is asked to have a film repeated. This may be done without cost at Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital any day the chest clinic is held."

Miss Steed urged those who need to have repeated films or other clinical tests done, to follow their physician's instructions promptly. In addition to tuberculosis other conditions that may be revealed include: evidence of certain heart ailment; tumors; or other lung or chest abnormalities. On the other hand, she said, "the reason for asking for an X-ray to be repeated may have been one of the few imperfect films."

The free chest X-ray survey was sponsored by Ulster County TB and Health Association in cooperation with Ulster County and New York State Departments of Health and Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital.

Patience Rewarded

NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Gallagher is a patient playwright — he nursed one drama for 19 years. The work, entitled "Vincent" and concerned with the life of French impressionist Vincent Van Gogh, is a current off-Broadway hit. A number of times through the years it was optioned for production, but something always prevented. "I never actually lost faith in it," he says, "but now I'm amazed about its success."

Criminal Cases Disposed of in County Court Here

Several criminal matters have been disposed of by County Judge Louis G. Bruhn this week.

On Monday afternoon Samuel Rose Jr., entered a plea of guilty to petit larceny and was given a year suspended sentence in the Ulster County jail. He was charged with taking property of Helen Robbins on July 7, 1959. Joseph Hill, who appeared for defendant, said the defendant had been intoxicated at the time and asked for leniency.

Under a second indictment Rose, was charged with second degree grand larceny, alleged to have been committed May 9, 1959. It was alleged he took tools from the Shanahan Construction Company at Ellenville. Under a second count of the indictment it was also alleged he criminally concealed and withheld stolen property from May 10, 1959 to July 21, 1959. On motion of Attorney Joseph Hill, the indictment was dismissed and bail, was exonerated.

An indictment charging Edward J. Matthews with taking a car owned by Frank Warren on May 4, 1960. Attorney Michael Nardone of Highland moved for dismissal of the charge. Nardone told the Court the defendant was intoxicated at the time and the complaining witness also sent a letter asking the matter be no longer prosecuted. Judge Bruhn dismissed the first degree grand larceny charge and defendant was discharged from custody.

Clarence Raymond Cook, charged with first degree rape, second degree assault and second degree rape, alleged to have been committed May 22, 1960, entered a plea of guilty to the last count of the indictment, rape, second degree, and the case was adjourned to Friday at 2 p. m. Attorney Richard Griggs appeared for defendant.

Two cases moved for disposition under the Youthful Offender Act, will be disposed of at chambers. John Wayne Ploss, charged with entering the plant of Epco, Inc., Town of Wallkill on July 28, and the taking of a car on July 26, 1960, owned by Pauly Funccias, were moved for disposition at chambers by Attorney Ward Ingalsbe, Jr.

Announcing the 1961 Ford...
Beautifully proportioned to the CLASSIC FORD LOOK

An honor to be proud of, this is the medal presented by the international fashion authority, Centro per L'Alta Moda Italiana, to the 1961 Ford for functional expression of classic beauty.

The 1961 Ford Galaxie Club Victoria—beautifully built to take care of people

BEAUTIFULLY BUILT TO TAKE CARE OF ITSELF

Ford makes automotive history with the trend-setting car of our times . . . a car that goes 30,000 miles without lubrication . . . 4,000 miles between oil changes . . . adjusts its own brakes and is beautifully built to take care of you!

The 1961 Ford, already recognized for its beautiful proportions by a leading international fashion authority, introduces a whole new concept of what a car can do for you...and for itself!

It lubricates itself. New nylon bearings and new lubricants keep the '61 Ford freshly greased for 30,000 miles. Good-bye grease racks!

It cleans its own oil. The 1961 Ford's wonderfully efficient Full-Flow oil filtering system lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes.

It adjusts its own brakes. A "mechanical brain" keeps brakes adjusted for the life of the brake lining.

Rust? Ford's body is specially processed to resist corrosion, even to galvanizing the panels beneath doors. The bright-metal trim is treated in depth to gleam and stay gleaming longer.

Ford takes care of itself on the turnpike, too, with a new 390-cu. in. Thunderbird Special V-8 that has plenty of punch. The 352 Thunderbird Special V-8 and 292 Thunderbird V-8 thrive on regular gas. And, for top economy, you can choose the '61 Mileage Maker Six.

Best of all, the '61 Ford is beautifully built to take care of you. No windshield dogleg nips your knees. Doors are extra-wide for easy entry.

This is the 1961 Ford . . . beautifully proportioned to the Classic Ford Look . . . beautifully built to take care of itself

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

LUBRICATES ITSELF. You'll normally go 30,000 miles without a chassis lubrication.

CLEANS ITS OWN OIL. You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.

ADJUSTS ITS OWN BRAKES. New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically.

GUARDS ITS OWN MUFFLER. Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

PROTECTS ITS OWN BODY. All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.

TAKES CARE OF ITS OWN FINISH. New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

Enrollment 575 At Delhi School

For the fourth consecutive year, registration at the State University of New York Agricultural and Technical Institute at Delhi reached a new high. The record enrollment by divisions is:

Agriculture, 88; business, 252; construction, 200; foods, 35, making a total of 575 registrants.

Scores of applicants had to be refused because of lack of facilities and insufficient increase in the teaching personnel. With the funds already allocated and tentatively set aside, it is the hope of the Administration that within a comparatively short time, Delhi Tech will be able to take care of a far greater portion of those applying for entrance than has been the case in the past several years.

YMCA News

Reorganization meeting of the Kingston YMCA's Leaders Club was held last Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Justin Beck Sr., 15 Fairview Avenue, after an outdoor barbecue.

The club is enrolled in the National Leaders Club program sponsored by local YMCA's. The Kingston club is starting its fourth year as a charter member.

Attending the meeting were: Louis H. Schafer, general secretary; Richard Case, physical director; Ernest Lombardi, senior club advisor.

Officers Elected

Senior club officers for 1960 are: Justin Beck, president; Robert Rundle, vice president; Michael Van Valkenburg, treasurer; Schroll Trodler, secretary. Other senior club members are, Scott Sharot, James Rundle, Ronald Storm, Larry Short, Thomas Wadnola, John David and Larry Flowers.

Major changes for the club was the dividing of the club into two divisions, which will be known as juniors and seniors. Due to the large influx of members during the last two years and with the club's enrollment of 40 boys, it was decided to separate the boys by age groups.

The senior group will consist of youths 13 to 18 years of age, and the junior section will enlist boys eight to 12 years of age. Membership in the club is obtainable by all YMCA members who show outstanding leadership ability and physical education aptitude.

The club also has accepted a streamlined constitution and set of by-laws to begin its new season program.

15 New Members

The Junior division held its organization meeting last Thursday afternoon, during which the names of 15 applicants for membership were received. ## Canada and U.S. Hope of All Who Prize Freedom

OGDENSBURG, N. Y. (AP) — "Canada and the United States are a symbol of hope for people everywhere who believe in freedom," Gov. Rockefeller says.

Rockefeller, here for the dedication Tuesday of an international bridge across the St. Lawrence River, said the structure "represents a new era of Canadian-American well-being and working together."

The mile-long bridge links Ogdensburg and Prescott, Ont.

Turning to the subject of milk in a speech Tuesday night, Rockefeller pointed out his role in gaining higher prices for milk producers in an area deeply concerned with declining dairy prices.

The U.S. Agriculture Department has raised the price of fluid milk paid to farmers in the New York-New Jersey milkshed by 20 cents a hundredweight (46.5 quarts) for the remainder of the year.

The Republican governor noted that the increase followed his personal appeal for federal action.

Rockefeller will tour Long Island today with the Republican presidential candidate, Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Thursday, the governor plans to attend the dedication of a $20-million campus of Harpur College, the State University's liberal arts college at Binghamton.

Rockefeller, at the bridge-dedication ceremonies, said the span would be a major contribution to the well-being of both countries.

Mohawk Indians from the St. Regis Reserve near Cornwall, however, maintain that the bridge's tolls are injuring them.

The Indians asked the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority, during a meeting Tuesday night at St. Regis, Que., to allow toll-free passage on the bridge for firms carrying merchandise to the reserve.

The Indians said suppliers were passing on toll charges in fuel prices and poorer families on the reserve were facing hardships with the approach of winter.

Andrew J. Broome and Dan Hudson, both of Pone, were killed in the crash.

The New Yorkers were returning from a visit to California.

Tirade Against U. S. Backfires

Castro Going Home A Battered Warrior

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press news Analyst

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Fidel Castro goes home today—and so far as his reputation as a statesman is concerned, he should have stayed home in Havana.

He may still be a hero to his revolutionary cohorts at home, but in the eyes of many a delegate to the 96-member U.N. General Assembly, Castro is leaving this country a somewhat battered warrior.

Soft, Calm Reply

The United States did well by itself Tuesday night. To Castro's interminable tirade of almost five hours, in which he accused the United States of responsibility for every woe Cuba ever suffered, U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth gave a deliberately soft, calm reply.

That reply gave the representatives of the world's nations the impression of an understanding, tolerant uncle soothing a badly spoiled child.

Castro came off second best, by all odds.

U.N. delegates, assessing the impact of the Cuban prime minister's debut before the world organization, indicated they thought Castro might even have created sympathy for the United States where little sympathy had existed before.

It usually is not difficult for a Latin-American speaker to win an attentive audience with an attack on the United States. Among the neighbors to the south there frequently is a certain amount of secret — or even open — satisfaction in watching rich Uncle Sam take it on the chin from one of his less fortunate Latin relatives.

This latent anti-Yankee feeling has been Castro's political capital in Latin America, where he still charms many among the masses and raises hopes among those of the extreme left. But he has frightened many, too, among them the men who at the present time are running Latin America's other governments and domestic affairs. He deepened their fright with his U.N. appearance

Castro's speech obviously failed to arouse enthusiasm for his violent themes among Latin American delegations. Only the Communists, cheerfully led by Nikita Khrushchev, and an isolated few others joined in bursts of applause for the Cuban's meandering, scatter-shot attack on the United States.

Interest Fades

Delegates of young African nations, with a sort of fascination looked on amazed while Castro spoke. Their interest in Castro as a potential neutralist seemed to fade.

How Castro looked to the Communists is not important. Whatever Khrushchev and the Communists think of him in private, they will lionize him publicly as a hero. For the Communists, Castro is a satisfactorily usable young man. That is all that counts to them.

Over Million Are To Study During Year Through TV

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) —Educational television, apparently ending its experimental status, will be used in the teaching of more than one million New York State public school pupils this year.

Television will be used most widely in 13 counties of the New York City metropolitan area, where the Regents Educational Television Project operates, and in Cortland, where a closed-circuit system serving several schools is in operation.

In addition, a few schools operate their own closed-circuit television.

The Regents project uses the facilities of WPIX-TV in New York City to broadcast classroom programs. The programs may be received by any sets within range.

The television programs serve as a part of normal classroom instruction.

The state - sponsored Cortland project will serve 2,500 students. The programs travel through cables and may be received only by sets on the circuit.

The State Education Department estimated Tuesday the number of pupils in public schools who will be taught by television.

Last year, the department said, 664,540 pupils received TV instruction through WPIX programs.

Some schools in adjacent areas of Connecticut, New Jersey and Pennsylvania also use the programs.

Taxes of Lesser Concern to Firms Seeking Locations

Adequate space and other facilities in a community—not the level of taxes—influence business firms in their decision to remain or establish in a particular area, a group of businessmen was told Tuesday at Newark, a Wayne County community.

State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, addressing a dinner sponsored by Wayne County Chamber of Commerce said, "Unfortunately, whenever the business climate of the state is discussed, practically all the emphasis is placed on taxes. While taxes do have some small influence on industrial location, there are many factors far more important. A recent study of this question placed taxes 22nd in a list of 23 items influencing industrial location."

Levitt listed the availability of adequate space, proper transportation facilities, good road, governmental services such as water and fire protection, and skilled manpower as factors of far more importance in the decision of businessmen to locate in a particular area.

He suggested improving the business climate of the state with state assistance to local governments for urban redevelopment and for the establishment of development corporations to build facilities and sell or rent them to business firms seeking space.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

WHAT'S WRONG IN LATIN AMERICA?

Is the real problem in Latin America a lack of dollars or a lack of stable government?

Criticism of the President's Latin American aid program is growing.

E. F. Hutton

Senator Mike Mansfield labels it as a "callous attempt to purchase favor in Latin America at a time when we are especially desirous of obtaining it."

An Argentine friend of former Ambassador Spruille Braden writes: "I hope I'm wrong, but I fear that with the aid of North American dollars we will follow the same path as Yugoslavia Czechslovakia, Poland, Bolivia, and so many others who have fallen under Communist tyranny with the aid of dollars taken under compulsion from the North American people."

Our investment in Latin America exceeds that of any other area of the world with the exception of Canada; an equal or greater number of American tourists go to Latin America as to any other part of the world; Venezuela ranks ah the fifth biggest market for U. S. exports.

So we have a great stake in Latin America. Let us act wisely.

Again and again, we have endeavored to purchase solutions to problems with dollars and more dollars. And what is the result of our dollar aid to Laos — Turkey — Bolivia — Cuba — Korea?

American investments flow into any country that has a stable government that honors contracts and protects property rights.

It is pouring water through a sieve to try to help rioting mobs.

Checking Schemes Used to Stall Negroes at Polls

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Louisiana Negroes today are scheduled for the second day to bare a web of devices in which they claim vote registrars are systematically catching them to deprive them of their right to vote.

"It's pure prejudice on the part of the registrar as to why there are not as many Negroes registered as there could be," testified Ernest N. Francis Jr., a Jackson Parish undertaker.

The U. S. Civil Rights Commission, a fact-finding body, is ending a two-day hearing on complaints of voter discriminations in Louisiana.

Only 28 per cent of eligible Louisiana Negroes are registered, the commission said. That compares with 82 per cent of eligible white voters.

Negroes—a vast majority from rural north Louisiana parishes—told the commission Tuesday they sometimes waited in line all day to register. White applicants merely walked in ahead of them, they said.

When the Negroes got in, a slight error—like "circling a word instead of underlining it"—often disqualified them, witnesses testified.

Others told the commission they were told there were no registration blanks available, or the registrar was out. Or they did not report their age correctly to the year, month and day. Or they hadn't properly identified themselves.

The Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame University and one of the commission members, said he found it "incredible" that a registrar had denied the ballot to Dr. John I. Reddix of Monroe, a Negro dentist.

Father Hesburgh said he would report the refusal directly to President Eisenhower.

President Given Top Jap Award

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower now has a top Japanese award he was to have received in Tokyo last June.

Crown Prince Akihito Tuesday night presented Eisenhower with the highest decoration Japan has ever bestowed on a head of state —the Supreme Order of the Chrysanthemum with collar.

The award had been arranged as a feature of Eisenhower's planned goodwill visit to Tokyo last June, but the trip was canceled because of leftist demonstrations against the Japanese government and the United States.

The heir to the Japanese throne pointedly gave the highest praise to Eisenhower in a toast at a White House dinner.

"You are held by all free peoples the world over in the highest respect and affection because of your candor, sincerity, your warmness of heart and above all your love of peace," Akihito said.

Nehru Hosts Party For World Leaders

NEW YORK (AP) — India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru threw the biggest "summit" party in history Tuesday night—and none of the renowned speechmakers present even made a speech.

In fact the leaders from more than 30 countries, including a score of national heads, didn't even toast each other. "We don't serve liquor," explained an Indian spokesman.

So the approximately 80 guests sipped fruit punch and munched on roast lamb and rice with lobster curry at the supper-buffet Nehru served at his Hotel Carlyle headquarters.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and his satellite leaders mixed gaily with the delegates from around the world who are attending the United Nations session. So did Cuba's Fidel Castro, who wore his field uniform as usual.

Notably absent were Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who pleaded previous commitments.

Also absent were Yugoslav President Tito and U.A.R. President Gamel Abdel Nasser.

"No speeches. The atmosphere was wonderful. The food was delicious," exclaimed Mrs. Golda Meir, Israel's foreign minister, after the two-hour affair.

Demos in Bitter Primary in R.I. For Two Posts

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—A tense, bitter primary battle among Rhode Island's Democrats for the U. S. Senate and gubernatorial nominations will be settled today by what is expected to be an outpouring of voters.

On the firing line for the Senatorial nomination are two veteran politicians and a newcomer. Former Gov. Dennis J. Roberts, 57, is opposed by J. Howard McGrath, 58, former U. S. attorney general, former U. S. senator and former governor. The seat was vacated by 92-year-old Theodore Francis Green.

The third man in the tug-of-war is Claiborne Pell of Newport, wealthy businessman and socialite, making his debut by bidding for the top level job of senator.

Nearly overshadowed by the furious senatorial fight is the struggle for the gubernatorial nomination.

That matches two strong vote-getters in Lt. Gov. John A. Notte Jr., and former Lt. Gov. Armand H. Cote.

Ike Gets Cheers From Million in Wake of Talks

NEW YORK (AP)—Crowds of one million cheering, waving New Yorkers gave President Eisenhower one of his greatest ovations when he departed for Washington after a round of talks with various world leaders.

The President stood in his open limousine and acknowledged the cheers and applause Tuesday by waving his arms and giving the victory sign.

His smile was broad as he received the plaudits from the crowds standing six and seven deep on some streets. Police said many had waited hours to get a glimpse of the President.

A blizzard of confetti and shredded telephone books nearly engulfed his car at several points as the motorcade rolled slowly from the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel to his plane at Newark Airport in New Jersey.

In 1906 the U.S. Congress heard a report on the things that had been found in coffee. It was colored with indigo, iron oxide, and even Prussian blue. And it wasn't all coffee. Mixed in were roasted peas, wheat, rye, oats, brown bread, charcoal, bark, and even date pits.

Chevy's '61 fleet swings in with a ready-made reputation as the trucks that are worth more because they work more...the latest editions of the haulers that scrapped the I-beam axle and proved the important advantages of independent front suspension!

You'll find new models in the '61 fleet—lower priced, long-wheelbase 4-wheel drive trucks—and thoughtful refinements throughout the line. But the big news for '61 is nailed-down proof (based on actual owner reports) that Chevrolet's torsion-spring design is the best thing that's happened to trucks in decades!

With Chevy's independent front suspension and Sturdi-Bilt design, you cruise over trails where other trucks creep. You feel the difference in less wheel fight and vibration. You can see why drivers are happier, why loads are better protected and why the truck itself will stand up to thousands of miles of more work. That goes for any size Chevy, too—pickups, tilt cabs, tandems, all of them.

Check the latest specs with your Chevrolet dealer: capacity, power teams, options, the works. Then, by all means, drive a '61. Once around your Chevrolet dealer's block and you'll never be satisfied with a front axle truck again!

Whip this Fleetside over a rutted road and find out what torsion springs are all about!

Our ancestors dreamt up the most terrifying monster imaginable, and called it a dragon. Little did they know how close this nightmare was to reality. The mythical dragon was a huge, bat-winged, fire-breathing scaly lizard or snake with a barbed tail. Maybe it's best people weren't around 150 million years ago when the dinosaur and pterodactyl roamed this world. Except for breathing fire, they were as big and ugly as any dragon.

Nixon Happy About Reception, Lauds Governor

NEW YORK (AP)—When Vice President Richard M. Nixon arrived here by plane early today for a round of speaking engagements, he was greeted by Gov. Rockefeller and about 300 supporters.

"I didn't expect anybody," said Nixon, "it's so late."

The governor replied that he had only arrived himself—"from Ogdensburg," where he had dedicated a bridge.

"Ogdensburg?" asked the vice president. "Where is that? Is that in New York?"

Rockefeller assured him it was. (Ogdensburg is in Northern New York on the banks of the St. Lawrence River.)

The vice president told reporters he was very pleased with Rockefeller's efforts on his behalf in California where, he said, the governor had "a tremendous impact on independent and Democratic voters."

Nixon said he hopes Rockefeller will continue campaigning for him outside the state as well as within it.

State Hearing Set On Auto Killings

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Psychologists and psychiatrists will be recruited by a legislative committee seeking the answer to "why so many citizens become killers behind the wheel of a car."

Sen. Edward J. Speno, R-Nassau, said Tuesday the views of the specialists would be given at a public hearing of his Committee on Traffic Safety Oct. 3 at Hempstead, L.I.

Meanwhile, the State Motor Vehicle Bureau announced that highway deaths were running 11 per cent under 1959 levels. Through Aug. 31 this year, 1,245 persons had been killed in motor vehicle accidents, compared with 1,404 by Aug. 31, 1959, the bureau said.

August was the seventh consecutive month in which the death toll had been below that of the corresponding month of 1959, the bureau said.

Speno said representatives of police departments, traffic-safety groups, medical societies, schools and churches also would participate in the legislative hearing.

The psychologists and psychiatrists will be asked to discuss hit-run drivers, speeders, persistent violators, teen-age drivers, alcoholic and drunk drivers, the effectiveness of driver-education and the advisability of driver-rehabilitation clinics, Speno said.

"As far as we know, legislators have never before asked psychologists or psychiatrists for advice about traffic laws," he said.

"It's time we did...they may be able to give us information we didn't have now on why many citizens become killers behind the wheel of a car," Speno said.

The Motor Vehicle Bureau, in its report, said there were 171 deaths in August of this year, compared with 221 in August, 1959.

One factor in the decrease is a New York City campaign to cut the number of pedestrian accidents, the bureau said.

It noted that 255 pedestrians had been killed in traffic by Aug. 31 of this year, compared with 312 during the same period last year.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A serious contender for honors among the documentary programs, ABC's new "Close Up" series, made its TV debut Tuesday night with a thoughtful look at prejudice and discrimination north of the Mason-Dixon line.

None of the show's raw material was new. Yet this pictorial roundup, with its earnest, restrained commentary, was a shocking indictment. Shown were the "Black ghetto" of Chicago, a Jewish physician excluded from Grosse Pointe, Mich.; Indians from a Nebraska reservation complaining about police brutality, Puerto Ricans crowded in expensive, crumbling New York tenements, and a snarling new-Nazi haranguing a crowd.

They were not pretty pictures, but they made a point. It is one of the most important new series. Anyway, it should be.

While television is blazing new paths in the public affairs area, it is rumbling along dully in the deep ruts of other seasons in its entertainment fare. Now at the end of the first month of the new season, there has not yet been one new show with a fresh approach. The comedies sound like retreads of last year's jokes. The Westerns and action tales are even more dedicated to small plots and great violence than ever before—in spite of all the pious talk by the medium's moguls.

Last week's "Thriller," on NBC drew some mail from horrified viewers with its tale about the mentally disturbed little boy bent on shooting out his hatreds with a rifle.

"Please, please," wrote one mother, "can't something be done to revise the code or censorship which allows a play like that to be shown?"

I guess not, madame. That series is dedicated to the proposition that exciting events befall an average citizen when a maniac enters his life, so it looks as if we are in for a full season of Tuesday night madness.

Title Switches

NEW YORK (AP) — Title juggling continues to be a frequent byproduct of theatrical production. A drama on off-Broadway switched from being called "Guitar" to "Somewhat a Lute," then beck to the original. One Broadway show "L'Hurluberlu" is now called "The Fighting Cock" after an interim title, "Time's Fool."

$250,000 Dutchess Negligence Trial Now Being Heard

Trial of a $250,000 negligence action, instituted by Dutchess County Medical Examiner Dr. Chester H. Golding and his wife, against the Dutchess Glass Co., Inc., and Harold Diamond, Poughkeepsie, is underway in Supreme Court in that city.

The law firm of Cook and Cook, of Kingston, with Andrew Cook Jr., of counsel, represents the defendants in the action. The law firm of Aldrich and Aldrich, Poughkeepsie, with Attorney Thomas Cusack, White Plains, of counsel, appear for the plaintiffs.

According to papers filed in the court, Mrs. Golding suffered permanent injuries to her neck and lower back necessitating surgery. The papers set forth that Mrs. Golding was driving a car in Mill Street, Wappingers Falls, on March 13, 1956, on her way to a drive-in window of a bank, when her car was in collision with a truck owned by the glass company and driven by Diamond.

Dr. Michael R. Ettenson, Poughkeepsie, was called as a witness for the plaintiff on Tuesday. He testified that his records show that Mrs. Golding, who claims she suffered permanent injuries in the collision, was hospitalized from Oct. 18 to Oct. 26, 1956.

The case is on trial before a jury of nine men and three women.

Barge Is Found Adrift in River At Poughkeepsie

Assistance from the Coast Guard to remove an 85-foot barge from the Hudson River to eliminate a menace to river navigation, was requested Tuesday by Dutchess County Sheriff C. Fred Close.

The unidentified barge, according to the sheriff, drifted down the river Monday afternoon off Hyde Park, and collided with a moored 26-foot boat owned by the Allen Younghanse Television Service Inc., of Poughkeepsie.

The barge pushed the boat down river until it was freed by deputy sheriffs, who assisted in towing it to the Riverdale boat basin north of Poughkeepsie.

Close said he took temporary custody of the barge as wreckmaster of the river, one of his official duties as sheriff. He said he had called upon the Coast Guard to either tow the barge away or destroy it.

The barge is presently tied up off Main Street, Poughkeepsie.

Close said the barge "is very dangerous to navigation." In order to warn crews of other boats plying the river of the presence of the barge, the sheriff had lanterns placed aboard.

2 Laos Regimes Ready for Talks To End Conflict

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The two rival regimes in Laos agreed today to peace talks seeking an end to the 17-day-old civil war.

Top military commanders of Premier Souvanna Phouma's neutralist government in Vientiane flew to the royal capital of Luang Prabang for the meeting.

Gen. Phoumi Nosovan and Prince Boun Oumuwghead of the rival right-wing revolutionary committee, were reported flying to Luang Prabang from their headquarters in Savannakhet.

King Savang Vathana called the meeting a week ago after the first military clash between the two regimes in the battle of Paksane, 100 miles northeast of Vientiane.

Court Fines Man $50 On Wage Law Charge

Two local men, booked on charges dealing with alleged violation of the unemployment insurance law, appeared before City Judge Aaron E. Klein today, and one, pleading guilty, was sentenced.

Jason E. Carle, 67, of 157 Henry Street, was given a suspended sentence of 30 days, plus the choice of paying a $50 fine or spending 25 days in jail. The fine was paid. A suspended sentence of 30 days was also imposed for each of several counts listed.

Harold B. Lane, 46, of 126 Linderman Avenue, manager of the Ulster Provisioners Cooperative Association, Inc., Field Court, where it is alleged Carle had been employed, pleaded innocent, and hearing was adjourned to Oct. 4 at 9 a. m. He was paroled in his own recognizance.

The charges are based on information obtained by William J. Alphonsin, a state investigator, and deal with a phase of the unemployment insurance law which prohibits payment or acceptance of sums for employment while a person is receiving state unemployment insurance benefits.

Graham's Tent Is Staying, Brandt Tells Communists

BERLIN (AP) — Mayor Willy Brandt's West Berlin government today refused a Communist demand to move American evangelist Billy Graham's big tent away from the "little Iron Curtain" dividing Berlin.

Communist Mayor Waldemar Schmidt of East Berlin made the demand in a letter to Brandt. The tent is about 100 yards from the border, and Graham's amplified voice can be heard clearly in the Red-ruled part of the city.

Schmidt said Graham's meetings—which are to continue for five more nights—are a 'gross provocation." He said West Berlin authorities would be responsible for the consequences.

Graham has been preaching for two nights to packed audiences of 20,000 and more.

Drivers Pay $40 Fines

Three drivers paid a total of $40 in fines on traffic charges in a light Tuesday night city court session. David Stokes, RD 2, Dallas, Pa., charged with speeding, was fined $25. Thomas Iapoce, Route 28, Ashokan, paid $5 each on charges of driving with inadequate lights and with an improper license address, and Raymond Morris, of Pinecrest Road, New Paltz, was fined $5 for a traffic light violation. Several cases were adjourned. Charges dealing with alleged unlawful intrusion against Kenneth White, 18, of Mt. Marion Park, and Donald Van Nostrand, 17, of 621 Broadway, were withdrawn. The charges grew of reported presence of the two without permission on the property of Radio Station WBAZ, 525, 527 Broadway.

Cuba Sending 2 Yanks to Nassau To Face Charges

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban government, after holding two Americans wanted on murder charges in the British Bahamas for five months, has finally agreed to their extradition.

The cabinet announced Tuesday night that Alvin Table Jr., 25, Torrance, Calif., and William Sees, 23, Etowah, Ark., would be sent to Nassau to face trial.

The men are accused of murdering Capt. Angus Boatwright, 55, of Key West, Fla., and pirating his fishing boat, Muriel III.

The pair and Table's wife, Barbara, 18, ran aground in a stolen boat on Elbow Key in the Bahamas last April. The Muriel's mate said that when Boatwright responded to their distress signal, Sees swam out and shot the captain. Sees and Table then made off with the Muriel, leaving the yacht's mate and four passengers and Mrs. Table marooned on the island.

Cuban navy men captured Sees and Table on a small island 200 miles east of Havana on April 25. The U.S. Coast Guard rescued the five castaways.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Where to turn in a falling stock market is a headache for traders any time. But today the complications are more than usual—often beyond guessing and some seemingly beyond control.

Many of the traditional defensive stocks are under fire too. In present world and domestic conditions some of them appear less defensive than usual.

Harangues No Help

The over-all unresolved question is just how bad—or how good—are prospects? Just how defensive does an investor need to be?

Harangues and table pounding at the United Nations are no help to calm investing judgment. Neither are political debates on where the economy is heading or the string of official statistics with contradictory aspects.

In a bear market traders traditionally are supposed to turn from stocks to bonds, or from glamor stocks to utilities, or from stocks that would benefit by further inflation, like growth stocks, to those that would benefit from deflation, like gold shares.

When world peace hopes are shaken, traders traditionally are supposed to turn from civilian goods stocks to those in industries supplying the military.

Added Complications Now

But this time there are added complications, both economic and political at home and economic and political abroad.

Little help to the stability of the market also is the advent of the time for stock selling and switching for income tax purposes—to register losses, or when possible, to get gains in the better tax year.

In the big shakeups in the market this month the utilities have held up better than the industrials as a whole. Their earnings and dividends are less subject to sudden spurts or sharp declines. Thus, in a bull market they lack glamor. In a bear market they look safer.

But whether this is a bear market yet or not, utility stocks too have felt the uncertainty about general business conditions that plagues the entire market.

Their prices have slumped, but by a lower percentage than the industrial averages. In The Associated Press stock price averages, the industrials dropped 10.6 per cent from Aug. 24 through Sept. 26 while the utilities dropped 4.1 per cent.

Falling stock prices have improved stock yields—dividend ratio to price—and at the same time easier money policies have dented bond yields.

'Litter Method' Used By Columbia GOP

CHATHAM, N.Y. (AP)—The Republican committee chairman in Columbia County has a "litter method" of determining whether voters are getting the party's message.

GOP workers distributed reams of campaign literature, buttons and souvenirs at the Chatham Fair.

The next day, the chairman, Mrs. Myrtie Tinklepaugh, discovered that fairground debris included only a small percentage of political material.

An explanation might be found, however, in the fact that litter bags were included with the souvenirs distributed.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. Meredith H. Thompson of Troy was appointed today as assistant commissioner for environmental health services in the State Health Department.

A BROKEN SHOWER PRESENT

Dear Mrs. Post: I went to a shower the other evening for a friend of mine. I bought her a very pretty cut glass dish. It was rather expensive. When the bride opened my package, to my embarrassment, the dish was in two pieces. I can't for the life of me see how it got broken as I was very careful with it and I think it may have been dropped by someone handling the presents at the shower. I would like to know if I am obliged to buy a duplicate present for the brid-to-be?

Answer: Unless you are certain the dish was whole when you delivered it, and you told the person to whom you handed it to be careful of it because it was breakable, I think you should replace it.

Can't Afford Mourning Clothes

Dear Mrs. Post: A few months ago I lost my husband in death. We had lived together more than 40 years and were very happy. I didn't go into mourning because I was not financially able to go out and buy a complete new wardrobe of black clothes. I have been severely criticized by my neighbors who think me perfectly heartless. Will you please tell me if going into mourning is absolutely necessary regardless of one's circumstances?

Answer: In the present day, a greater number of persons do not go into mourning at all, and your neighbors should not criticize you because you cannot afford to buy black clothes, which after all are merely an outside sign of grief and does not reflect the mourning in one's heart which is shown by the quiet dignity of one's life.

When Declining an Invitation

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to give a reason when not accepting a friend's invitation to dinner? In other words, is it impolite just to say one can't but not why?

Answer: Merely saying you're sorry but you can't is not impolite to an acquaintance. To add briefly why you can't would be expected by an intimate friend.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-30, "Table Setting," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. # Farmer's Wife Wins $25,000 in Baking Contest With Dill Seed Batter Bread Entry

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Frank H. Schnuelle, a farmer's wife from Crab Orchard, Neb., won the $25,000 top prize in the national recipe and baking contest today.

Her wedding recipe was a batter bread flavored with dill seed and baked in a casserole.

Mrs. Schnuelle, a grandmother, was declared the winner over 99 other contestants from across the country and some from foreign lands.

Her recipe was cited as an ideal outdoor dish for barbecues and patio parties.

It's so simple that anyone can make it, says Mrs. Schnuelle, who demonstrated at a mass bakeoff Monday in the splendor of a hotel ballroom.

The 100 contestants whipped up their entries and served them on the spot to the 10 judges—all professional home economists or food editors.

Second grand prize winner of $5,00^ was Frances M. Roek of East Detroit, Mich., for a chocolate macaroon cake.

First prize of $3,000 in the senior division for contestants over 18 years of age was won by Vera E. Massie of Springfield, Ohio, with a no-bake cheesecake.

The top junior was Karan L. Sprengle, 12, of Pomona, Calif., who won $3,000 first prize in her division with a Polynesian tuna bake, a sweet-and-sour casserole with oriental flavoring of brown sugar, onions, soy sauce and lemon. She's an eighth-grade student.

The top prize-winning recipe:

Dilly Casserole Bread

1 packet active dry yeast, or 1 cake compressed yeast
¼ cup warm water
1 cup creamed cottage cheese, heated to lukewarm
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1 tablespoon butter
2 teaspoons dill seed
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon soda
1 unbeaten egg
2¼ to 2½ cups Pillsbury's best all-purpose flour

Soften yeast in water. Combine in mixing bowl cottage cheese, sugar, onion, butter, dill seed, salt, soda, egg and softened yeast. Add flour to form a stiff dough, beating well after each addition. Cover. Let rise in warm place—85 to 90 degrees F.—until light and doubled in size, 50 to 60 minutes.

Stir down dough. Turn into well-greased 8-inch round—1½ or 2 qts.—casserole. Let rise in warm place until light, 30 to 40 minutes. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 to 50 minutes until golden brown. Brush with soft butter and sprinkle with salt. Makes one round loaf.

Mothers Need Rest From Children Says Child Expert

LONDON (AP)—Mothers need a break from their "noisy, dirty, wailing, sniveling" kids, says a leading British child expert.

R. S. Illingworth, professor of child health at Sheffield University, suggested today that for the good of their health wives should have occasional weekends alone with their husbands.

"Too much attention is paid these days to preventing psychological problems in children—and too little to preventing psychological problems in mothers," Illingworth wrote in the British Medical Association Journal "Family Doctor."

Illingworth said husbands could help a lot by giving the harassed mothers time off to get a hair-

He suggested that occasional weekend separations of parents and children could do the child a lot of good.

"Such a short break helps him to begin to learn independence," the professor explained.

At Oxford, 300 American and British mothers attending the fifth annual conference of American and British Women's Activities agreed that spanking children up to 15 years old often was a good thing.

"We agreed there is a definite lack of discipline among juveniles today," said Nancy Blagg, wife of a U.S. Air Force captain and mother of three young children.

Children over 15, said an American grandmother, Marti Anderson, "need love, understanding, trust and a sense of humor—for them, security is essential."

Parents' Club

Regular monthly meeting of he Parents' Club will be held t the North Flatbush School on Oct. 4 at 8 p. m. A set of by-aws will be voted upon. All members are urged to attend.

Since the beginning of this century, the nation's population has more than doubled. Most people just aren't dying as young as they used to. In fact, the number of people over 65 has not merely doubled—it has quadrupled since 1900. ## Loretta DeAngelis Weds Kenneth Kennedy In Double Ring Ceremony September 24

On Saturday, Sept. 24, at 3 p. m. at St. Mary's Church in Saugerties, Miss Loretta Ann DeAngelis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeAngelis Sr., 23 Village Drive, Kings Village, was united in marriage to Kenneth L. Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kennedy of Livermore Falls, Me.

The Rev. Joseph F. Hamilton officiated at the double ring ceremony. Organist Mrs. Dorothy Narel also sang "Ave Maria" and "Mother Beloved."

The altar was decorated with white mums and gladioli. White bows marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of peau de soie in modified princess fashion, styled with a fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and a scooped neckline. The full skirt terminated in a chapel length circular train. The bodice and skirt featured appliques of imported Alencon lace. The French illusion fingertip veil was shirred to a seeded crown. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses with a white orchid in the center.

The bride's cousin, Mrs. C. Kartalis, of Staten Island, served as matron of honor in a gown of jewel pink, fashioned with a fitted bodice, abbreviated sleeves and a circlet neckline. The bouffant organza skirt was ballerina length and she wore a matching headpiece of silken roses with a tulle flirtation veil. Her flowers were a crescent arrangement of romance blue mums.

Serving as bridesmaids were the bride's sister, Miss Merrily P. DeAngelis and her cousin, Miss Judith J. Page, of Vineyard Village, Metuchen, N. J. Junior bridesmaids were another sister, Miss Brenda DeAngelis, and Miss Linda Morris, of Kings Village. The attendants were dressed identical in style to the honor attendant except in romance blue, and they carried jewel pink crecent shaped bouquets of mums.

George Capaso of Kingston served as best man. Ushers were Theodore Couris of Kingston and Robert Ferrell of New Paltz.

Mother of the bride wore a gold brocade dress and matching accessories with a mink cape. Her corsage consisted of two small orchids, with a gold ribbon. Mother of the bridegroom wore a blue print dress, with a blue hat and black accessories and had a similar corsage with a silver ribbon.

Following the ceremony, 100 guests were entertained at a reception at the Flamingo Restaurant.

Mrs. Kennedy is a graduate of Kingston High School, and is now employed by Dr. Henry P. Kwasnowski, in Kingston. Her husband graduated from Ricker Junior College, Houlton, Me., and Wentworth Institute, Boston, Mass. He served three years with the U. S. Army, and is now employed by the International Business Machines Corporation in Kingston.

For her wedding trip to Miami Beach, Fla., the bride wore a blue-green peau de soie suit dress, with black patent leather accessories and a black feathered pill box hat with an orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy will be at home at 191 Elmendorf Street, this city, upon their return.

Dizzy Times in Civilized World, T

U.N. Rates Closely With Congo In Field of Mixed Up Details

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's been a dizzy few days.

Things are mixed in the Congo, where the people are primitive, but hardly more mixed than in the United Nations, that symbol of man's most civilized effort to preserve peace.

There—where the biggest collection of world leaders ever assembld in one place at one time are prforming—nothing is being settled in a hurry and no one knows whether peace is a sheep that's been sheared.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev proposes reforming the United Nations in a way that would wreck it; Fidel Castro gets U.S. protection while attacking the United States; Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser makes a plea no one seems to hear.

Khrushchev tries to rally the neutrals to his side but they appear to be lining up with the West against him; Dag Hammarskjold is put on the defensive but refuses to stay there.

The Russians may be applauding when they hit tables with their fists; and any meeting between President Eisenhower and Khrushchev, although they were only a few yards apart, seems unlikely.

Khrushchev demanded the United Nations get rid of Secretary-General Hammarskjold and create three secretaries, each with a veto that could cancel what the other two wanted in an emergency, thus leaving the United Nations helpless.

To his fellow Cubans Castro may have looked like a hero of enormous daring to stand up in the United Nations—in the heart of New York—and villify this country.

Fact is, he was probably safer doing that than any time he makes a speech in Havana. The United States has to go all out to protect him while he's on American soil.

Egypt's Nasser offered one of the few soft notes in a screechy week, suggesting President Eisenhower and Khrushchev have a summit meeting. This seemed what Khrushchev hac in mind when he came here.

But Khrushchev turned a fishy eye on all who asked him what he thought of Nasser's idea and Eisenhower gave no indication he is interested in it.

Hammarskjold made a big speech which practically defied the Russian to do his worst.

The world's diplomatic big-wigs burst into thunderous applause when the Swede finished, all except the Russians who, led by Khrushchev, pounded the tables.

Still, this couldn't be interpreted for sure as Russian disapproval since, some say, it might have been just the Russians' way of expressing more emphatic applause than just clapping hands.

Vern Law to Face Ford In World Series Opener

Bucs Will Have Righty Lineup

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Right-hander Vernon Law, Pittsburgh's 20-game winner, definitely will pitch the opener of the World Series against the New York Yankees here Wednesday, Oct. 5.

Law most likely will be opposed by Whitey Ford, the veteran left-hander, who has been Manager Casey Stengel's nominee to start important series during the regular season.

If Ford goes, Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh will start his "right-handed" lineup. That means Dick Stuart will be at first base, Hal Smith behind the plate and Gino Cimoli in center field.

Murtaugh indicated that Law will be followed by Bob Friend, another right-hander, in the second game. Either Vinegar Bend Mizell or Harvey Haddix, both left-handers, will pitch the third game, when the teams switch to Yankee Stadium.

Murtaugh is a man of few words but he strayed from character when asked whether he had heard the whisperings that the Pirates may tighten up against the experienced American League champions.

"Listen," he said. "We respect the Yankees but we're certainly not scared of 'em. We're not underestimating them but the Yankees better not underestimate us. We got a good ball club and we're not worried about any pressure. Shucks, we've played under pressure all year.

"We've been underplayed all year. When we went into first place last June, the consensus was that we would stay there only temporarily. When we hit a little skid and slipped into second place, the cynics said: 'I told you so.'

"But we moved right back in there. What's the word for this club? Resiliency?

"Any club that can bounce back as often as we did will not succumb to pressure. If we were a one-man ball club, and you stopped that one man, then we would be in trouble. But we don't depend on any one man. Stop one and another comes through."

If Murtaugh has any worry, it's over the availability of Dick Groat, the team's captain, shortstop and spark plug, to play in the Series. Groat suffered a fractured left wrist last Sept. 6 and hasn't played since.

"Anyone else with the same kind of injury I'd say would be unable to play in the Series," said Murhaugh. "But after being with Goat since 1956, I would have to say if there is any one man who could play, it would be Groat."

"If (Dick) Schofield should have to play in the World Series," he said. "I wouldn't be worried in the least. I think he's done one of the most outstanding jobs under terrific pressure any utility man has had to do in years."

TV Became Frankenstein

Jim Norris Renounces All Ring Connections

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The Windy City has passed from the scene as a major professional boxing center with dissolution by millionaire Jim Norris of National Boxing Enterprises.

Television, which formed the financial foundation of his boxing empire, finally turned into a Frankenstein monster. The decision by the American Broadcasting Co. to drop the televise. Wednesday night fights strangled the main source of revenue for NBE. An embittered Norris Tuesday renounced all connection with the sport.

Tonight, Eddie Perkins of Chicago meets Gene Gresham of Detroit in a 10-round lightweight bout in Chicago Stadium that ends a nine-year history of the Wednesday night fights feature.

"I'm sorry I ever got into boxing," said Norris, owner of the Chicago Blackhawks hockey team a racing stable and part owner, with Arthur M. Wirtz, of the Chicago Stadium.

"I tried my best to bring good boxing to the public of America," continued Norris, who has been under congressional fire for alleged association with shady characters in boxing.

"My enemies—as vague as they were—beat me down. Our organization is quitting an impossible situation. Any usefulness or desire I had in boxing is gone. We put our heart, money and integrity into boxing only to get slapped down. Our belly is now full and we're quitting."

TV boxing will continue on Saturday nights—with most of the bouts in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Norris said Chicago Stadium would be available for boxing promotions, but he didn't expect any topflight fights.

Charter, Campi On Channel 9 Saturday Night

Semi-finals of the Channel 9 Major League Bowling series will resume Saturday night at the Neptune Lanes in Brooklyn as Jake Charter of Poughkeepsie meets Lou Campi of Dumont, N. J. The winner will face Chuck Wagner on the following Saturday for the championship.

Charter was winner of the eastern division qualifying honors with a 728 series back on July 16. Campi was runner-up with 696 on Aug. 27.

Saturday's skirmish will be the second TV meeting between Charter and Campi. Jake won, 697-635, in the play-off for the other series, which ended on July 9.

UCLA's Kilmer Back to Work

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bill Kilmer, a triple threat tailback who fires up UCLA's explosive single wing attack, today was named Back of the Week in the Associated Press' weekly football poll for his dazzling deeds against Purdue Saturday.

The 21-year-old senior threw three touchdown passes — for 76, 70 and 17 yard scoring strikes — ran 11 yards for the fourth TD and had a real ball all afternoon in the 27-27 tie with the Boilermakers at Lafayette, Ind.

The 6-foot, 187-pounder who has been hampered by injuries the past two seasons, completed 9 of 16 passes for 226 yards, carried the ball 13 times for 42 yards net, and punted four times for a 42-yard average.

Outstanding as he was, Kilmer was pressed for the honor by a flock of other Saturday heroes including Dave Hoppman of Iowa State; Dick Thornton of Northwestern; Ernie Davis of Syracuse; Bill McQuirt of Clemson; Ronnie Bull of Baylor; Tommy Mason of Tulane and Wisconsin's Run Miller, among others.

Hoppman scored three touchdowns, passed for another, gained 204 yards rushing and 96 more passing in the Cyclones' 44-21 victory over Detroit Friday night.

The 20-year-old sophomore from Madison, Wis., tops the major colleges in total offense. Kilmer is third.

Bills, Chargers Release Players

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Spaces for new faces are being made on the football rosters of the Buffalo Bills and the Los Angeles Chargers of the American Football League.

The two teams, who will meet here Sunday, cut players Tuesday, indicating the spots would be filled by game-time.

Buffalo released Le Roy Moore, a defensive end from Ft. Valley, Ga. State Teachers.

The Chargers cut fullback Hubert Bobo, formerly of Ohio State; Jeffe Thomas, a halfback from Michigan State and a three-year veteran with the Baltimore Colts, and end Ben Donnell of Vanderbilt.

Grid Briefs From Upstate

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Tom Gilberg, a 230-pound tackle, will be one of four Syracuse players watching the tossing of the coin for the beginning of the Syracuse-Kansas football game Saturday.

Gilberg was named game captain Tuesday. He joins the season tri-captains, Dick Reimer, Al Bemiller and Fred Mautino.

Syracuse worked in a light drizzle against plays it expects from Kansas in their nationally televised clash.

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Ronald Hall, a senior guard, returned to the first team during a dummy scrimmage Tuesday against Bucknell plays as Cornell readied for the Saturday football clash.

Hall replaced another senior, Ed Capra. Capt. Warren Sundstrom, also a guard, was a doubtful prospect for the game here because of a knee injury.

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) — Colgate set its football defenses for Lehigh's passing and running game by having two teams imitate the invaders.

The Red Raiders engaged Tuesday in a limited contact workout, their first this week. Coach Al Kelley was expected to hold his only scrimmage of the week today. Colgate plays Lehigh Saturday.

Syracuse Eleven In Familiar Role

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The powerful Syracuse team that dominated the football statistics last year enroute to the 1959 national title already leads the major colleges in rushing offe. , rushing defense and total defense.

Syracuse gained 357 yards on the ground in its opener against Boston University while holding the opposition to 2 yards rushing and 25 yards in the airm

Duke moved out front in total offense while crushing South Carolina 31-0. Duke rolled up 526 yards, 322 on the ground and 204 by passing.

Washington's scoring splurge of 96 points in its first two starts has put the Rose Bowl champs out front in the point race.

Washington State is the passing leader with a 227-yard average for two games. Wisconsin has the best punting average, 46.4 yards and San Jose State, which blanked Brigham Young without a passing gain, is the leader in pass defense.

Most of the leaders expect stern challenges in this week's action. The Syracuse defense and ground game should be well tested by a strong Kansas team Saturday.

Stafford Signs For Army Hitch

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Bill Stafford, rookie righthander who won 3 games in the New York Yankees' stretch drive for the American League pennant, has enlisted in the U.S. Army, his father says.

Stafford's father, William Stafford Sr., said Tuesday night at Athens, Greene County, that his son would be inducted Oct. 15 at Richmond, Va., for six months' duty.

The World Series would end Oct. 13 if the classic went the full seven games and none was postponed because of inclement weather.

Stafford won 3 and lost 1 since he was called up from Richmond of the International League last month. Casey Stengel, Yankee manager, has talked of starting Stafford in one of the series games against Pittsburgh of the National League.

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds Tuesday signed a working agreement for next season with Indianapolis of the American Association.

Mississippi and Syracuse Are Selected to Win Top Contests

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Football is a kicking game. If you don't believe it just listen to some of the alumni. More of them will be grumbling after this week's games. Here are the winners:

Mississippi over Memphis State: This looks like a breeze for the Rebel team but Memphis State statistically, has the second-best offense in the nation. But it wasn't built up against teams of Mississippi's caliber.

Syracuse over Kansas: The score was close a year ago but Syracuse led the Big Eight team in first downs, 32-4. This is the TV morsel for this week.

Washington over Navy: The Huskies see this as a big step toward greater national recognition. The Middies' Joe Bellino will give the Washington fans fits, however.

Illinois over West Virginia: Johnny Easterbrook's passing to make molehills out of the Mountaineers.

Iowa over Northwestern: Dick Thornton, the Wildcats' big gun, is out with a leg injury.

Clemson over Virginia Tech: The Clemson line is one of the best in the south.

Ohio State over Southern California: The Buckeyes' new offensive will make the afternoon a miserable one for the McKeever twins.

Elsewhere:

George Tech over Florida; Tennesseee over Mississippi State; Purdue over Notre Dame; Texas over Texas Tech; Alabama over Vanderbilt; Penn State over Missouri.

Friday night

Miami over North Carolina; Louisville over Bradley.

Saturday

EAST: Boston University over Holy Cross, Colgate over Lehigh; Rutgers over Connecticut, Bucknell over Cornell, Penn over Dartmouth, Delaware over Amherst, Princeton over Columbia, Buffalo over Temple, Yale over Brown.

SOUTH: The Citadel over Davidson, Wake Forest over Florida State, Georgia over South Carolina, Auburn over Kentucky, Duke over Maryland, Mississippi Southern over West Texas State, North Carolina State over Virginia, Virginia Military over Richmond, William and Mary over George Washington, LSU over Baylor.

MIDWEST: Colorado over Kansas State, Michigan State over Michigan, Minnesota over Indiana, Nebraska at Iowa State, Oklahoma over Pittsburgh, Tulsa over Hardin Simmons, Wisconsin over Marquette.

SOUTHWEST: North Texas State over Cincinnati, Tulane over Rice, Texas Christian over Arkansas, New Mexico over Texas Western, Texas A&M over Trinity.

FAR WEST: Wyoming over Arizona, Army over California, Colorado State University over Brigham Young, Montana State over Wichita, Montana over Idaho, Oregon State over Houston, College of Pacific over Hawaii, Utah State over Denver, Oregon over Utah.

(Last week's record: 35-12 for .745 per cent. Season's average: 70-19 for .788).

Buffalo Team Has New Quarterback

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Quarterback Joe Oliverio, who completed 15 of 25 passes for 169 yards against Virginia Military Institute last Saturday night, has won the starting assignment with the University of Buffalo football team against Temple Saturday in Philadelphia.

Oliverio replaces Gordon Bukaty, the Bulls' captain, in the position.

The Bulls will be seeking their first victory of the season against the Owls. Army and VMI have downed ambitious Buffalo, 37-0 and 28-14.

Campbell Expects Early Hospital Exit

TOOELE, Utah (AP) — British driver Donald Campbell, injured when his Bluebird II speed car crashed on the Bonneville salt flats Sept. 16, says he hopes to be released from a hospital by the end of the week.

Campbell suffered a basal skull fracture when the auto went into an end-over-end flip at about 300 miles per hour.

Campbell said Tuesday he and his wife had made no concrete plans for returning to Great Britain and "won't until we know I'm completely free of risking a hemorrhage. I can't fly for a month anyway."

The wreckage of Campbell's car is on its way back to England, along with many members of the crew. The accident halted Campbell's attempt to break the world land speed record.

Weiss Retirement Is Predicted

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Journal-American said Tuesday it had learned that George Weiss will retire as active general manager of the New York Yankees after the World Series with Pittsburgh.

The article was written by Max Kase, sports editor of the paper.

Kase said he had learned that Weiss would remain as a counsellor-emeritus to help the younger men.

Weiss denied the report.

"I have no such intention," he said. "My contract has a number of years to go, either four or five. But no one knows what's going to happen tomorrow. At the moment, I fully intend to fulfill my contract. All that I'm thinking about right now is winning the World Series."

Tech Sergeant Leads Army Golf Tourney

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—T. Sgt. Rudy Spiers of Washington, D.C., shot a 3-under par 69 Tuesday to take the lead in the 1960 Air Force Worldwide Golf Tournament at Randolph AFB.

The round gave Spiers, playing for the United Command, a 36-hole total of 140, seven strokes under the totals of Maj. J. F. Moseley and Master Sgt. M. M. Strey of the Air Defense Command and 1st Lt. L. A. Halvorson of the Tactical Air Command.

Phillips to Quit As Race Starter

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Steve Phillips, who revolutionized harness racing 15 years ago will make his last appearance as starter tonight at Roosevelt Raceway.

Roosevelt closes its season tonight and Phillips plans to retire.

Phillips is the inventor of the starting gate with the folding arms.

His son, Charles, will take over the job of track starter.

Tuesday night at Roosevelt, Lieutenant Byrd won the featured Long Island Class A pace in 2:03. Driven by Bob Walker, the three-year-old pacer finished a half-length ahead of Royal Affair and paid $7.30.

In other feature races at New York State harness tracks:

Saratoga—Chance Pick won a $2,000 pace in 2:06 3-5 for a $3.30 payoff. Pete Dailey drove.

Vernon — Intercor, driven by Jack Bailey, captured a $1,700 trot in 2:04 2-5 and paid $3.40.

Batavia — Junior Goose, piloted by Bud Gilmour, won a $1,700 pace in 2:06 1-5 and paid $5.40.

Marciano Signs For TV Program

Pirates Have Pitching Edge Because of Stronger Bullpen

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — World Series history is filled with stories of brilliant feats by relief pitchers. Larry Sherry added the most recent chapter, leading Los Angeles to victory in 1959.

Elroy Face is most likely to put his name on the list as a result of the 1960 series opening a week from today in Forbes Field. Because the New York Yankees have little to match the consistently brilliant performances of the little Pittsburgh bull pen specialist, the Pirates' pitching staff is given the edge over the New York's.

Southpaws Bobby Shantz and Luis Arroyo have been the Yankees' top relief men. But neither is in the same class with Face, whose 10 victories is as many as Scantz and Arroyo have combined. Face is backed up by Clem Labine, a series veteran with the Dodgers, who turned in an outstanding job after being picked up as a free agent in mid-August.

Better Starters

On the surface, Pittsburgh also appears to have an edge as far as starting pitchers are concerned. The Pirates' big four has won 61 games and lost 38. Vernon Law has a 20-8 mark, Bob Friend is 17-12, Vinegar Bend Mizell 13-8 and Harvey Haddix 11-10.

The Yanks figure to go with Art Dimar (15-9), Whitey Ford (11-9), Bob Turley (9-3) and Ralph Terry (10-8). That's a combined record of 45-29.

Other Yankee pitching eligibles are Eli Grba (5-4), Ryne Duren (3-4), Jim Coates (12-3), Duke Maas (2-1) and rookie Bill Stafford (3-1).

The Pirates will also have available Tom Cheney (2-2), George Witt (1-2), Fred Green (7-4) and Joe Gibbon (4-2).

Matthews, Lane Win Big Fights

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Now that third-ranked lightweight Len Matthews and seventh-ranked Kenny Lane have scored impressive victories, their managers went about today making plans to line up top matches in efforts to further advance the boxers.

Tony Graziano, Matthews' manager, said he is trying to close a deal to match the 21-year-old Philadelphian in a Saturday night television fight against welterweight Gaspar Ortega in Madison Square Garden, New York. The tentative date is Oct. 22.

Matthews looked exceptionally sharp Tuesday night in scoring a decisive sixth-round technical knockout over Panama champion Jorge Quintero in 2:04 of the sixth round of a scheduled 10-rounder after flooring him twice in the round with hard left hooks.

Matthews weighed 139 pounds, and Quintero 142.

Lane, of Muskegon, Mich., who wasted no time in disposing of less experienced Sidney (Sweetpea) Adams of Philadelphia with a technical knockout in 2:58 of the first round of a scheduled 10 round co-feature, said he would like a shot at lightweight champion Joe brown.

Lane fought Brown previously and dropped a decision.

32 National Golf Tournament Set To Start Today

ARDMORE, Pa. (AP)—Amateur golfers from 32 nations start out Wednesday at the Merion Golf Club in one of the most cordial and confusing of all international competitions — the second World Amateur Golf Team Championship.

Inaugurated at St. Andrews, Scotland, two years ago, the World championship is played by four-man teams representing each nation. Only the best three scores each day, however, are counted toward the team totals.

This makes it a bit difficult for players to understand what's going on. But friendship and international amity are considered more important than scores in this competition—at least until it comes to a showdown for the huge silver Eisenhower Trophy.

Won in Playoff

Australia won the first team championship in 1958, defeating the United States 222-224, in a playoff after the Americans came from behind on the final holes to tie the Aussies at 918 for 72 holes and beat out the pacesetting British team by a stroke.

Red Sox Fire Bucky Harris

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox, experiencing one of their worst years, drastically and suddenly revamped their front office staff Tuesday.

Stanley R. (Bucky) Harris who came out of the Pennsylvania anthracite region and led Washington to a pennant in 1924 as boy manager and who has held numerous managerial and executive posts in baseball, was fired as general manager.

John J. Murphy, better known as "Grandma" when a stout relief pitcher for the New York Yankees, was fired as head of the Boston American League club's farm system.

Harris was not available for comment. Murphy described the action as a complete surprise and didn't want to talk about it.

The Sox named Richard H. O'Connell, who has been business manager the last dozen years, as executive vice president.

Neil T. Mahoney, supervisor of eastern scouting for eight years, was named to succeed Murphy. His title was announced as director of the Red Sox minor league system.

The announcement said only that Harris and Murphy were leaving the Sox.

And outfielder Jim King won the International League most valuable player award, edging Buffalo Bisons' outfielder Don Ladrum by 221-220 in points.

The Colonels are expected to open with right-hander Don Nottebart. He was 13-5 in regular American Association season play and claimed three playoff victories.

Duren Sparkles for Yankees; Mays Seeks NL Hitting Title

Ties Record With Five Strikeouts To Start Game

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees may be undecided over his starting pitcher for the opening game of the World Series a week from today, but he knows for sure that one-time relief ace Ryne Duren is back in business.

The fast-balling right-hander had managed just one save while losing his only decision in 16 appearances since July 28.

But Duren, making his first start in two years, showed he still had the stuff in a tune-up test for the series Tuesday night, tying a modern record by striking out the first five men he faced as the Yankees whipped Washington 5-1. Duren, who worked four innings, winner Eli Grba and Bob Turley allowed the Senators just three hits as the American League champs won their 11th in a row.

Orioles Second

Baltimore walloped Boston 17-3 and took a one-game lead over Chicago in their scrap for second place as Detroit beat the White Sox 2-0 behind Jim Bunning's three-hit pitching. Kansas City defeated Cleveland 5-4.

Duren, showing only a 3-4 record and a 4.60 earned run average after early season arm trouble, became the fourth pitcher in modern times—since 1900—to strike out five in a row at the start of a game.

Grba (6-4) won it with three hitless innings. Turley gave up one single in his two frames.

Skowron Homers

The Yankees, riding their longest streak since they won 11 in 1956, beat Don Lee (8-7) with two runs in the second on a double by Dale Long, a triple by Johnny Blanchard and an error. Bill Skowron then rapped his 26th home run as a pinch-hitter leading off a three-run eighth.

Jim Gentile drove in five runs for the Orioles, who tagged 18 hits, including four homers, for their one-game scoring high this season. Skinny Brown (12-5) was the winner and Ike Delock (9-10) the loser.

Bunning (11-14) allowed nothing but singles, two by Sherm Lollar, while pitching his third shutout this season. Early Wynn (13-11) lost it on a two-out wild pitch in the sixth inning.

Jerry Lumpe, who went 4-for-4, belted a home run and drove in two runs for the A's against loser Barry Latman (7-7). Ray Herbert (13-15) won it with 3 1-3 innings of shutout relief by rookie Dave Wickersham.

Major League Stars

Hitting — Tommy Davis, Dodgers, rookie outfielder drove in four runs, three with his 10th homer, in 5-1 victory over Cardinals and 21-game winner Ernie Broglio.

Pitching — Ryne Duren, Yankees, question-mark right-hander, making first start in two years in warm up for World Series relief role, tied modern record by striking out first five men he faced in 5-1 victory over Senators.

Giant Star Now Hitting at .322 For Third Place

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The plot's beginning to perk up in the race for the National League batting title. There are just five days left, but here comes Willie.

While Norm Larker of Los Angeles and injured Dick Groat of Pittsburgh's champion Pirates are tied for the lead at .325, Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants has climbed to .322 in his shot for a second title.

Groat has been sidelined since breaking his wrist September 6. He has only three games left. Larker has five, Willie four.

Bucs Win in 16th

Groat, who expects to get back into the line-up against Milwaukee this weekend, returned as a pinch-runner as the Pirates defeated Cincinnati 4-3 in 16 innings Tuesday night. It was the longest game of the year in the majors and ended the champions' losing streak at three.

Larker was 1-for-2 and picked up a point for the first-place tie with Groat as the Dodgers beat the St. Louis Cardinals and 21-game winner Ernie Broglio 5-1. Mays gained two points with a double and two singles in four trips, driving in the Giants' run in a 3-1 loss to the Chicago Cubs.

Milwaukee retained a half-game edge over St. Louis for second money in the standings despite a 5-3 defeat at Philadelphia.

Dick Stuart walloped a three-run homer in the first inning for the Pirates, then opened the 16th with a double off loser Cal McLish (4-14) as they beat the Reds on a follow-up single by Dick Schofield.

Broglio Beaten

Rookie Tommy Davis drove in four runs, three with his 10th homer, as the Dodgers clipped Broglio's winning streak at five. It was his eighth defeat. Roger Craig (8-3) was the winner, allowing five hits and striking out six. That gave the Los Angeles staff a total of 1,080, breaking the major league strikeout record the Dodgers set last season with 1,078.

Four unearned runs with two out in the eighth inning brought the Phils from behind against Milwaukee right-hander Joey Jay (9-8). Dick Farrell (11-16) was the winner in relief of Robin Roberts.

Rickey Prods Majors to Act On Expansion

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Branch Rickey hinted broadly today he may re-activate the Continental League if the major league club owners do not live up to their promise to expand.

Baseball's 79-year-old pioneer and president of the short-lived league that threatened for a time to become a third major league, said he planned to call a press conference shortly after the World Series. He said he would demand that the majors fish or cut bait.

"The majors in a meeting with us in Chicago on Aug. 2 promised to act within 30 days," Rickey said. "It is now almost 60 and nothing has been done.

"The American League has made promises, that's all. The National League hasn't met at all. And if they're going to wait for them I think they're going to wait a long time. The National League hasn't even chosen the cities yet."

Rickey is a firm believer in expansion but insists it can be done only by the addition of a third league and not by increasing the present eight-team league setup to 10 or 12 teams.

London — Terry Spinks, London, stopped Bobby Neill, London, 7. (for British featherweight title).

NATO Broadens Air Defense to Soothe DeGaulle

PARIS (AP) — NATO's permanent council today broadened unification of European air defense in a compromise to meet President Charles de Gaulle's objections to giving up control over the French air force.

Under the compromise, French air units in West Germany and near the German border will be placed under Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe.

A spokesman for the 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organizad tion described the agreement as a good working arrangement which represents a considerable measure of progress.

In brief, the move puts European air defense responsibility under Norstad, except for the major part of France itself.

The agreement also provides for the air defense system to be beefed up with ground-to-air rockets, antiaircraft rockets and early warning radar.

De Gaulle vigorously opposed general unification, holding to his conviction that the French should control their own national defense forces.

Earth Currents Would Control Missiles: Boeing

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Signals traveling through the earth itself would control Minuteman intecontinental ballistic missiles under a system being developed by the Boeing Airplane Co.

The company announced it is working on a system using buried antennas to transmit messages through the earth by way of so-called "earth currents." It did not elaborate.

Sylvania Electric Co. was awarded a $7.5-million subcontract to provide special transmission and receiving equipment.

Chisox Re-sign Lopez for 1961

CHICAGO (AP) — Al Lopez, whose teams never have finished lower than second place, today signed to manage the Chicago White Sox for the 1961 season. This ended speculation Lopez was headed for the New York Yankees.

The signing was announced at Comiskey Park by Sox President Bill Veeck.

The fifth White Sox contract for the 52-year-old Lopez again was a one-year pact. The salary was not disclosed.

Lopez is the only American League manager to break the Yankee pennant chain under Casey Stengel in the past 12 years. Lopez' Cleveland Indians won the flag in 1954 and his White Sox dethroned the Yankees last year.

Pan American World Airways has leased the space in the new skyscraper to be built over Grand Central Terminal. The structure, which was to have been built named Grand Central City, has been renamed the Pan Am Building for its principal tenant.

500,000 Added To Tax Roll by N. Y. Withholding

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—The state assembly majority leader said today New York's new income-tax withholding system had added 500,000 "free loaders" to the state tax rolls.

They will pay between 35 and 40 million dollars in taxes this year, Republican Charles A. Schoeneck of Syracuse said in a statement.

He said a cut in taxes on 1960 income, advocated by Gov. Rockefeller, was "virtually certain."

Schoeneck, campaigning for reelection, said the tax withholding system inaugurated in New York by the Rockefeller administration made it possible to detect a half million persons who had been avoiding payment.

These evaders owe the state millions of dollars in back taxes, Schoeneck said, which New York is moving to collect. He added:

"The requirement that all eligible persons carry their share of state government cost is only fair to the persons who have paid their taxes in the past and are paying them now."

Miss Hopkins on Tour

NEW YORK (AP) — Miriam Hopkins is starring in a 73-city tour of "Look Homeward, Angel," the Pulitzer Prize drama based upon Thomas Wolfe's famed novel. Appearing with her is John Drew Barrymore as young Wolfe. The 33-week tour winds up in Denver on June 1.

Khrushy, Tito Confer in N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, apparently in grumpy mood, met privately today with Yugoslavia's President Tito in his heavily guarded Park Avenue residence.

The Soviet leader delayed his visit to the United Nations in order to meet with the Yugoslav leader, who, in the past has refused to bow to Kremlin domination.

Warm Greeting

Khrushchev warmly greeted Tito on the sidewalk when the Yugoslav marshal arrived. Khrushchev vigorously pumped his arm and wrapped his left arm around Tito's shoulder in a friendly hug.

While waiting for Tito, Khrushchev talked briefly to newsmen without any of his usual quips and jokes.

He shrugged aside a question about whether he would meet with President Eisenhower with these words: "Nobody told me that I am to talk to him."

Khrushchev said he did not plan to be on hand to bid goodby today to Cuba's Fidel Castro because "I have already said goodby to him."

A newsman asked if he had any reply to make to charges by Walter Reuther, AFL-CIO Auto Workers president, that the Russians have pursued anti-Semitic policies.

Khrushchev shook his head and dourly replied via his interpreter "We don't answer to dog's barking. A reasonable person merely passes by."

Khrushchev all but ignored a question about whether the Soviet Union has shot a man into space yet and returned him successfully. He looked up at the sky and shook his head without comment.

One Gay Moment

Khrushchev's only gay moment came when he strolled out onto the sidewalk and waved at Hunter College girls who were leaning out of windows in a building across the street to watch him.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home met privately with Khrushchev just before Tito arrived.

A British Foreign Office spokesman subsequently announced that Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan would meet with Khrushchev sometime Thursday afternoon at a site not yet determined. The meeting will follow Macmillan's address to the U.N. General Assembly.

25 Win Foundation Health Scholarships

Twenty-Five New York students—none from Ulster County—have been awarded 1960 National Foundation health scholarships, Basil O' Connor, president of the March of Dimes organization, announced today.

Each year more than 500 scholarships are offered nationally to qualified young Americans seeking careers in medicine, nursing, physical therapy, occupational therapy or medical social work. Each scholarship is for $500 a year for four years of college or university education.

Addison Jones, campaign director, and William A. Kelly, chapter chairman of Ulster County Chapter of the National Foundation, today said the health scholarship program was a most important part of the National Foundation's work. ## Drops One Stop

NEW YORK (AP) —Sen. John F. Kennedy has dropped a scheduled lunch stop at Little Falls, N. Y., Thursday on his Upstate campaign schedule.

Democratic State headquarters said Tuesday the stop was canceled because of considerations of time, routes and road conditions.

Backlog Gains 3 PC in State's District Courts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The backlog of cases in New York's four Federal District Courts jumped 3 per cent during the year that ended June 30.

The annual report of the Federal Court Administrative Office shows there were 394 more district court cases awaiting final action in the Empire State than a year earlier.

Sens. Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating, New York Republicans, have used this growing backlog as their main argument for an increase in the number of federal judges.

But the Democratic-controlled Congress failed to act on a judgeship bill this year.

If the Democrats win the presidency this year it would be up to them rather than the Republicans, to make appointments to any additional judgeships created by the next Congress.

The report showed 14,877 cases pending in the four courts on June 30, compared with 14,483 on July 1, 1959.

Nationally the backlog dipped slightly—from 71,523 on July 1, 1959, to 68,942 last June 30.

All four New York districts showed increases during the year ranging from 2 per cent in the huge Southern District — which handles about four times as many cases as the other three combined — to 6½ per cent in the Northern District.

The Eastern District had a 4½ per cent increase and the Western District a 2½ per cent increase.

Some 9,075 cases were begun during the year in the four courts and 8,635 cases were terminated.

Here is a breakdown on cases in each district, listing cases pending on July 1, 1959, cases begun, cases terminated and cases pending last June 30 in that order:

Northern District—519; 677; 644 and 552.

Eastern District 1,921; 1,660; 1,570 and 2,011.

Southern District—11,553; 7,980; 7,721 and 11,812.

Western District—490; 669; 657 and 502.

Airline Ground Workers Planning Saturday Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—A systemwide strike of nonflying employes of American Airlines has been authorized for midnight Saturday.

The announcement was made Tuesday by Michael J. Quill, president of the Transport Workers Union, which represents about 8,000 mechanics, maintenance workers and other airline employes.

"Only a speedy, bona fide offer by the company, resulting in a satisfactory and honorable contract" could avert the strike, Quill said.

The strike threat came as negotiations continued here with a representative of the National Mediation Board in attendance.

The union has demanded a 20 per cent increase in wages which it says now range from $2.03 to $3.14 an hour.

The TWU also is seeking a reduction in the work week from the present 37½ hours to 30 hours, in addition to other demands.

The current two-year contract expires Friday midnight.

The union plans demonstrations in 27 major cities where American has facilities. The airline said the demonstrations would not hamper flight schedules.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—No act in show business today is hotter than the Kingston Trio, three young men who refuse to act like show people.

Mind you they're not square, They're as hep as any collegiates, which they were three years ago. But they refuse to be swept away by their whirlwind success.

Their success is already a legend. That their "String Along" is the No. 1 selling album should surprise no one; they have already earned four gold records for albums (sales over 500,000). A week ago, they headlined a concert at the Hollywood Bowl which drew $110,000 for two performances.

The trio — Dave Guard, Nick Reynolds and Bob Shane—were at Republic Studios to film commercials for a soft drink firm. Their pay: approximately $225,000 for 12 one-minute films.

The last I had seen of them was when they had smashed to fame with a song about a hapless lad named Tom Dooley. Has success spoiled the Kingstons? The answer is no.

Far from going Hollywood, all three have married and live in the San Francisco Bay area.

"We like it up there; it's stimulating," I[illegible] explained. "We used to be on the road all the time. But now we're doing more concerts instead of long stands. If we get three days off, we can fly home. We're home about three months of the year now."

At home they lead normal suburban lives and don't even subscribe to Variety. Their standards have caused them to pass up a sizable amount of loot that could be gained from Las Vegas and Hollywood.

"We've been offered up to $25,000 to play Vegas," Dave remarked. "But we can make that much playing three nights of concerts to people who want to hear us, not the jaded Vegas crowd."

"There have been picture offers too," Bob added. "But they want us to come on the screen for two or three numbers and then get lost. Who needs it?"

Denial Is Made Authority Plans Jersey Jet Port

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — Opponents of the Port of New York Authority's studies of jet airport site in Morris County had their turn at bat today before a special senate investigating committee.

Austin J. Tobin, executive director of the giant bistate agency, told the committee Tuesday that the Authority has no plans whatsoever to build another airport.

Only Seeks Data

He said the Authority was actively studying several sites in New Jersey and New York, but only for the purpose of giving the legislatures of the two states factual engineering information.

Tobin said the Authority assumes that the legislature will not authorize a jetport in Morris County and "We are not going to propose one."

Nevertheless, the Jersey Jetport Site Association and others opposed to the Authority's course of action, planned to bring a parade of witnesses to argue against a location in the Great Swamp area of Morris County or any other urban area.

John R. Wiley, the Authority's aviation director, said he is in charge of the final airport site study, which will not be completed until next year, and even he does not know how it will come out.

Other Tests Made

Tobin was asked to have Wiley give the committee today the names of 18 Morris County property owners who allowed test borings on their land. Wiley said test borings were also being made in Readington Township, Hunterdon County, and Pine Island in Orange County, N. Y.

Sen. Frank S. Farley, R-Atlantic, committee chairman, said the probe would be recessed after today's hearing until a week or 10 days after the Nov. 8 election, and then the committee will resume work on the Port Authority's role in the transit problem.

U.S. Grant for Tito

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States announced today grants of $350,000 to Yugoslavia to aid that country's development of atomic energy uses for peaceful purposes.

HURLEY 4-H BARBECUE—Members of the Senior Busy Bees 4-H Club of Hurley prepare chicken barbecue at their first fall meeting as part of their cooking project. Husking corn are (l-r) Lynne Charlton, Joan Miller, Mrs. Harold F. Schadewald, Mildred Van Allen and Christina Dixon. At the fireplace preparing chickens are Mrs. Vernon Goetchius, Carrol Nicklas, Lydia Zerbst and Judy Benton. # Families of GIs Urged to Obtain Military Ballots

"An estimated 87,000 New York servicemen and women will be eligible to cast military ballots in the Presidential election this year," Charles L. Culver, counselor of the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and John B. Tyler, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, said today. Completed applications for a military ballot must be received on or before Thursday, Oct. 27, 1960 by the Division of Servicemens' Voting, Albany, or by the Board of Elections of the home county of residence of the military voter on or before Oct. 28. These applications may be filed in person at the Board of Elections until noon of Nov. 5, 1960.

Families having a member in service were urged to visit the offices of the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and obtain the military ballot applications they need. The veteran officials emphasized that the applications should be sent by the home front to members of the Armed Forces or their dependents who are eligible to vote in time for them to complete them and return them by Oct. 27.

Culver and Tyler said that a sizable vote, approximately 42,000 ballots, will be cast in New York State this year by military personnel who are stationed out of state.

Applications may be secured by contacting the State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency at 32 Main Street, Kingston, or any of the branch offices located in Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson and Saugerties.

Kennedy Sees Victory if He Carries State

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP) —Senator John F. Kennedy carried his Democratic presidential campaign into Upstate New York today with the assertion that a Democratic victory in New York would mean a Democratic victory in the nation.

Kennedy told an enthusiastic crowd of about 500 at Niagara Falls Airport that the Democrats have always "stood for the people, stood for full development of our natural resources."

"If we carry New York State," said Kennedy, "the next president of the United States will be a Democrat."

Move to Abolish CS Fees Going To Dutchess Body

Abolition of fees charged to applicants for Civil Service examinations, which range from $2 to $5, will be recommended to the Dutchess County Board of Supervisors at a meeting, Oct. 10 by the County Civil Service Commission.

The Board of Supervisors could comply with the recommendation after adopting a resolution.

The commissioners said they believe there will be greater interest in examinations if no fees are charged. They noted that the state recently abolished fees for examinations.

The Civil Service Commission's resolution will recommend elimination of the fees after Jan. 1, 1961.

The commissioners plan to arrange a meeting with representatives of school districts in the county late next month. Effective Sept. 1, non-professional personnel of the school districts were put under the Dutchess County Civil Service setup.

However, the commissioners said they believe that the 1961 Legislature will transfer school employes from the Civil Service to the State Education Department.

Two Feel Water Rates Going Up In Po'keepsie

Increased water rates to pay for the $3,000,000 waterworks improvement program in Poughkeepsie, are forecast by Mayor Victor Waryas (D-L) and Common Council Majority Leader Walter Van Tine (R).

The increase, which may be voted in 1961, may double the present rates in the city and among Town of Poughkeepsie customers, if past engineering estimates of the needs prove accurate.

Van Tine said some water rate increase appears inevitable.

Superintendent of Public Works Harold R. Dean told the Common Council at the last meeting that a new schedule of water rates must be completed as quickly as possible.

Alderman Van Tine said the water rates had not been increased since 1919.

Mayor Waryas said he felt the Republican administrations had delayed too long the answer to the water problem of improved water facilities, and he recalled that Hazen and Sawyer, consulting engineers to the city, some years ago had warned of the necessity to modernize the waterworks and increase water rates to pay for the improvements.

12 Are Seized In Claverack on Various Charges

Eight men and four women were arrested Saturday night in a house in Claverack, Columbia County, on various charges, including common gambling, selling beer without a license, illegal possession of a switchblade knife, vagrancy and public intoxication.

The house is located on a dirt road just off Route 23 less than a mile from the Claverack state police barracks. It reportedly housed four laborers connected with a migrant labor camp.

A Hudson woman, Bernice Griffin, 36, was committed to jail in lieu of $1,000 bail—$500 on each of two counts, vagrancy and selling beer without a license.

One of the men was jailed on a charge of illegal possession of a switchblade knife to await action of the grand jury. Three of the men received sentences of 10 days in jail on gambling charges, another 10 days or $50, and two were charged with public intoxication. Another Hudson woman, Mabel Griffin, 53, was released in $50 bail on a vagrancy charge.

INSURANCE POLICY! ENDORSEMENT
QUESTION: When an endorsement is put on an insurance policy does it always change the terms of the policy?
ANSWER: Not exactly. An endorsement might add something to be insured or cover a change of automobiles or merely a change of address of an insured person. The endorsement is used just so a whole new policy need not be written.
